PROSPECTUS of the CURRAWANG COPPER MINING COMPANY. (Limited).
Capital £60,000, in Shares of £1 each.
20,000 PAID-UP SHARES
To be retained by the Proprietors, and 40,000 to be allotted to the Public, to be paid for in calls of not more than 2s. 6d. each at intervals of not less than two months.

The Currawang Mine is on a freehold property of 322 acres, situated at Currawang, about twenty-two miles from Goulburn, and seven from Collector.

The first indication which presented itself of its mineral wealth was a large quantity of copper ore, near the surface, whereof a portion has been forwarded to Sydney. A sample of this surface copper ore, assayed at the Mint, shewed :—
Copper .... 27.90 per cent.
Lead .... 10.79 ,,
Silver............ 9 oz. 16 dwts. per ton.

What has been done to test further the value of the property will be best understood from the annexed extract from the report of Mr. W. G. Walters, Mining Engineer and Superintendent of the Works.

The Gossan—more properly known as Red Oxide of Iron—through which the first shaft was sunk extends over a large portion of the ground, to a great depth in some places. Enough has been measured to show the existence of a very large quantity. Various assays made of this show it to be rich in gold and silver, averaging, nearly 11 dwts. gold and 5 ozs. silver per ton. Two samples of it, one 56 lbs., and another 75 lbs. weight, after being dried, have been tried in Wheeler's patent amalgamating machine, showing results in the first case of Gold........ 10 dwts. 5 grs. to the ton.
Silver ...... 2 oz. 6 dwts. ditto
In the second case—
Gold........ 14 dwts. 9 grs. ditto
Silver ...... 4 oz. 13 dwts. 22 grs. ditto.

The latter sample was part of 1½ ton taken indiscriminately from different parts of the ground, and some from deeper sinking than the first. Supposing that in actual practice, on a large scale, an average of 7 or 8 dwts. or loss of gold, and 3 ozs. of silver be procured by this process (and there is every reason for assuming, from the above experiments, it is likely to be more rather than less) —a very large yield of profit per week may be expected. Estimates showing the weekly profit, supposing the result of the second experiment could always be realised, are appended hereto, with certificates verifying the same. The 1½ ton from which the 75 lbs. above-named were taken, was passed through the mill at the Mint, and showed a yield of gold at the rate of 7¼ dwts. to the ton. An analysis of the debris or tailings gave gold at the rate of 3¼ dwts. to the ton. This experiment, allowing for moisture, proves that the composition of the mass corresponded very nearly with the small portion tried by Wheeler's machine, which, it should be observed, saves what would be lost in tailings by the Mint process.

It is proposed in the first instance to erect the machinery necessary to extract the gold and silver. The operations as at present on the copper lode will also be continued, and machinery erected as occasion requires. A first call of 2s. 6d. per share will be made on allotment; other calls will not exceed 2s. 6d. each, nor be made at intervals of less than two months.

The working of the mine is being prosecuted with full vigour, over thirty men being employed. The interest of the company will date as from 1st July. The promoters will repay themselves the cost of land, £1000, leaving payment for all outlay incurred to above date in plant, dwellings, shafts, improvements, and about forty tons of copper ore (part in Sydney and part en route), entirely to the future consideration of the shareholders after declaration of a dividend.

It is anticipated that large profits will arise from working the Gossan, and it is intended that so much of such profits as may be necessary shall be employed in developing and working the copper mine, instead of making calls for that purpose.

It is proposed to place the management of the Company under the control of a Board of Five Directors, one of whom shall retire annually. The directors will be chosen by the shareholders generally, from among themselves, so soon as the first call shall be paid.

A deed of settlement of the Company, in terms of this prospectus, is in course of preparation by Messrs. Stephen and Stephen, solicitors of this Company.

The mine being within a reasonable distance of Sydney, intending applicants for shares are invited to inspect the property, and judge for themselves. The proprietors depend entirely on the merits of the property, and do not care to put forward names of influence to assist them in forming a company.

The proprietors undertake that the PROFITS of the first TWO YEARS shall, in the first instance, be devoted to the payment of a DIVIDEND at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum, on the subscribed capital paid up, before taking a similar or any dividend whatever on their reserved shares, and they further undertake not to SELL any of their paid up shares until after a dividend has been declared.

As soon as a company is formed, an Act of Parliament will be applied for, to limit the liability of the shareholders.

Samples of gossan and ore may be seen at the office of the undersigned.

Allotments of shares will be made as far as practicable PRO RATA with due regard to applications for small numbers.

Applications for shares in the form annexed, to be made on or before the 31st instant to the undersigned, by whom the property has been inspected, and from whom prospectuses, forms of application, and all particulars can be procured, and who will retain all applications unopened till the day of allotment.

Extract from Report of W. G. Walters, referred to in Prospectus :
Currawang Copper Mines,
Saturday Morning, July 29th, 1865.
To the Proprietors of the Currawang Copper Mines.
Gentlemen,—I beg to hand you my report of these Mines to the present date, work performed, and minerals developed.

The main shaft is now sunk to about 12 fathoms. In going down from surface we passed through Gossans and Red Oxide to a depth of about 16 feet, it then underlaid easterly out of the Shaft, we then sunk to 34 feet through decomposed Slate, Prian, and Mundic, then drove south 24 feet, when I came on the Red Oxide. Put a X cut east to intersect the Lode, and came on the hanging wall at 23 feet ; in this X cut we passed through the Red Oxide and cut Black Ore and Mundic in several veins—dip of lode northerly, underlay easterly. I then drove south 12 feet on the course of the Lode in the direction of No. 2 Shaft, and cut Black Ore and Mundic in the bottom of drive, which still continues. Thus having proved without doubt the existence of Black Ore, I then sunk the Main Shaft to the 10-fathom level, crosscutted east 17 feet, and again intersected the Lode, passing through it to a well defined hanging wall ; in the centre of the Lode we cut a vein of Black Ore and Mundic which averages in the depth of the drive 2 feet, but at the bottom 3 feet. In sinking the shaft to this drive we found the existence of Native and Red Oxides of Coppers, which underlays with the Lode, and is now gone out of the shaft. We are now in course of sinking the Main Shaft for a 20 fathom level drive. No. 2 Shaft has been sunk to a depth of 43 feet 6 inches through decomposed Slate, Prian, and small seams of Gossan, at about 30 feet we struck the Lode on the foot wall, underlaying east, in which we came an a vein of Black Oxide and Mundic running out on the underlay to the east end of the Shaft, which from its course and underlay is a continuation of the vein cut in the Lode of the 10 fm. level—X Cut East from Main Shaft being a distance of 1 chain 45 feet. Two other Shafts are now being sunk, one to the south of No. 2 Shaft and the other to the north of the Main Shaft, which at a depth there can be no doubt, from present indications, the Lode will be again cut. We are now completing Mining and Assay Offices, Black-Smiths and Carpenters' Shops, Nos. 1 and 2 Shafts roofed in, together with several Workmen's Huts, which have been built by the men with their own labour and the Company's Materials.

I am, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,
WM. GROSVENOR WALTERS, M.E., Manager.

Statement showing estimated product from the red oxide of iron, or gossan, from Currawang, as extracted by Wheeler's amalgamator :—
Calculation for one week's work—based on first experiment.
An engine of 10-horse power will drive eight Wheeler's pans and four concentrators, besides crushing the ore—the process of extraction is shown to occupy a maximum of two hours, giving in twenty-four hours twelve out turns, each 4 tons, or 48 tons per day—288 tons per week.
The yield by first experiment gave as follows :—

	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.
Gold, 10 dwts. 5 gr. per ton, on 288 tons, 147 oz., at £3 15.				551	5	0
Silver, 2 oz. 6 dwts. per ton, on 288 tons, 662 oz. 8 dwts., at 5s.				165	12	0
				£716	17	0
* By the addition of chemicals to the value of 6d per ton, to facilitate the extraction of silver, it was estimated that the yield would be increased by 2 oz. to the ton, giving an additional 576 oz., at 5s	£144	0	0
Less cost chemicals	7	4	0	£136	16	0
Produce for the week				£853	13	0

Second experiment on ore taken indiscriminately from various parts of the lode, and from different depths. The yield shows a great improvement on the first and gives

	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.
Gold, 14 dwts. 9 grs. per ton on 288 tons, 207 oz., at £3 15s.				£776	5	0
Silver, 4 oz. 13 dwts. 22 grs. per ton on 288 tons, 1352 oz. 8 dwts. at 5s	£338	2	0
Less cost of chemicals	7	4	0	330	18	0
Produce for the week				£1107	3	0

* This additional quantity is obtained in second experiment.

By the continuance of its administration for a few weeks, the most deteriorated constitution may be wholly restored to health.

Manufactured by DINNEFORD and CO., 172, New Bond street, London ; and sold by all chemists throughout the world.
Wholesale agents for Sydney, Messrs. J. and E. ROW, Pitt-street ; and Messrs. WORMS and CO., Wynyard-lane.

CAUTION.—COCKLE'S ANTIBILIOUS PILLS.—Fraudulent imitations of these celebrated pills are in circulation, having the stamp, bills, and labels all counterfeited. Some of these counterfeits have the stamp printed with a full stop after the word "OFFICE," and are wrapped with one bill only, the boxes lined purple or red, and the pills themselves irregular in form, with indentations on their surface. The GENUINE have no stop after the word "office" on the Government stamp ; they are wrapped with two bills, the boxes are white inside, and the pills are perfectly globular in form, and present no indentations whatever. May be had of Messrs. ROW and Messrs. NORRIE and BROWN, both of Pitt-street, Sydney.

BOYVEAU LAFFECTEUR'S ROB, authorised and adopted by the medical faculty of France. This syrup, prepared and guaranteed genuine by the signature of "Dr. Girandeau de St. Gervais," is superior to the essence and to the syrups of sarsaparilla, of cuirimos, iodine of potassium, and other mercurial preparations. Being of easy digestion and pleasant to the taste and smell, the Rob is recommended by the medical practitioners of all countries for the cure of tetters, abscesses, cancers, ulcers, degenerated gales, scrofula, scurvy, and fluor albus.
The Rob de Boyveau Laffecteur is useful to cure radically, and in a short time, acrimonious fluor albus, old and new contagious symptoms. The Rob particularly cures syphilitic diseases, and is especially adapted to cases where mercury has been administered, as it completely eradicates from the system the baneful influence which the use of all such preparations so frequently produces.

CAUTION.—Chlorodyne.—In Chancery.—It was clearly proved before Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood, by affidavits from eminent hospital physicians of London, that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of chlorodyne ; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See the TIMES, January 12th, 1864. The public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, which is extensively used in hospitals at home and abroad, and is affirmed by medical testimonials accompanying each bottle to be the most efficacious medicine ever discovered for fevers, dysentery, diarrhœa, consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, spasms, rheumatisms, &c. No home should be without it. It relieves pains, soothes the system, inducing refreshing and soothing sleep, without producing or leaving any unpleasant effects like opium, and may be taken at any time in a few drop doses.
None genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the wrapper.
 Beware of counterfeits sold under the same name.

Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians that he had received a Despatch from her Majesty's Consul at Manila, to the effect that Cholera had been raging fearfully, and that the only remedy of any service was CHLORODYNE.—See LANCET, December 31st, 1864.

TO BE DISPOSED OF by RAFFLE, an OIL PAINTING of
a noted pass in the district of Athole, Perthshire, formed by a narrow vale or chasm through which flows the tumultuous river GARRY, a tributary to the Tay, and which, moreover, forms part of the great access to the highlands between PERTH and INVERNESS. The pass of Killiecrankie, which extends two or three miles in length, is remarkable as giving name to a battle fought upon the rough ground at its north-west extremity, July 27th, 1689, between the forces of GENERAL MACKAY, commander of the Government troops, for protection of the revolution settlement, and the Highlanders assembled under VISCOUNT DUNDEE in behalf of King JAMES VII. The former were defeated and driven back, and great numbers slain by the pursuing Highlanders.
On the other hand, the cause of King James suffered more by the death of Dundee, who was killed by a musket-bullet, near Urrard House, while cheering on his men to victory.

WILLCOX AND GIBBS' FAMILY SEWING MACHINE.—In 1864 it competed and received nine out of ten prizes given for the best Sewing Machine in the United States. It forms a flat, even, and elastic seam, which is warranted not to rip in wear if properly sewed, when every third stitch is cut. This machine can be run but one way; two thousand stitches, or two yards of work, can be done in one minute without dropping a stitch. The machine is so simple and accurate in its construction that it supersedes the use of the noisy shuttle, and with one thread produces all the practical results of the two-thread machines, and more, for it falls without basting, and hems the finest muslin without puckering. It will sew perfectly from one to thirty-two thicknesses of calico without alteration of tension. The highest colonial testimonials can be given of their practical working. S. HEBBLEWHITE, 432, George-street, and 292, Pitt-street.

Its complete superiority is fully shown in the following
It fells or hems any width, turning its own hem as it stitches.

Gathers any kind of material with any quantity of full ness.

Gathers and sews on a band at the same time without basting.

Embroiders in beautiful designs, with cord, braid, or silk.

The Sydney Morning Herald.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 12, 1865.

It is necessary for our readers to interpret the fragmentary and ambiguous items of every telegram by their previous knowledge of facts and of the relations of the parties whose purposes and deeds are given. There are always some blunders which will be corrected by greater detail. For example, the Government is said to have "introduced a bill for relieving conscientious persons from declaring their belief in the plenary inspiration of the Prayer Book!" Did anybody ever hear any legal assertion of the inspiration of the Book of Common Prayer, or any declaration to that effect demanded? The Bill will probably relieve from subscription to the pledge of belief in every thing contained in the Prayer Book by clerical persons, or those who may have acquired any privileges in the Universities or in the Established Church.

The subsiding of the organisation of the Finian Brotherhood—"encouraged by the United States"—in what form or by what agency we have yet to learn, will be good news to those who believed any conspiracy to exist. There are a few noisy people in Ireland always threatening insurrection, but it is all wild talk, and rarely worth repeating. There will be riots enough, but we do not expect any man will live to see a rebellion.

In weighing the American news, we must for a long time to come exercise considerable caution. Much difficulty will be found in disposing of the four millions of people whose social relations have been so profoundly disturbed. By other channels we have learned that great and successful efforts are made to collect the negro population, and that a vast number of them are settling upon land which has been assigned to them for that purpose. That all, indeed, will turn out to be saints in a country like the South, is not what rational men would expect. But we have had too much experience during the last four years to accept any general statements. No examples have been produced in the course of the war of that ferocity, cruelty, and disorder predicted of the negroes, but to which they have so often been victims. Our readers well remember that a correspondent of this journal gave a full account of the riots in New York, when a large number of negroes were killed and wounded, and that (himself an Irishmna) he ascribed these deeds of violence to people from his part of the United Kingdom, whose antipathy is excited by the competition of negro labour. We have no doubt that when the South shall become quiet, the entire negro population will gravitate towards it, as suited to their constitutions, and where they will be too numerous for insult and abuse.

The most important part of the news is the alleged attitude of the Government of Washington towards both France and England. Nothing is impossible, and therefore it is not impossible that Mr. Johnson and his Ministers may have gone stark mad. But rumours from Washington from which the information is derived, will not command much confidence with those who know that paragraphs of this kind have teemed in the newspapers for the last ten years. In reference to the rebel ram Stonewall, certainly the English Government will not retain any property belonging to the United States, or to which it may be entitled by the issue of the war, and it is no offence to demand it. But the intention on the part of the Government of Washington to address England in the way of menace is very improbable now the Southern statesmen have ceased to rule. A similar statement was made just before the departure of the last mail, was repeated in several papers with great confidence, and appeared in some of the journals of France, namely, that now demands had been made on account of the damage done by the Alabama. This statement was officially contradicted. It is not at all impossible that the Government of Washington has expressed an opinion with respect to the proper limit to French reinforcements in aid of Maximilian. This, however, is very different to any direct opposition to the Mexican monarchy, or putting it down by force. The Emperor of France will not consider himself obliged to render indefinite aid to the Emperor Maximilian, but there are many forms in which assistance can be given without being a principal in the war. Still, France has gone too far to permit a direct attack upon the Mexican Emperor on the part of the States. Nor can he be expected to know or regard an abstraction like the Monroe doctrine which never was recognised by many States in Europe. If the attitude ascribed to the Government of Washington either in reference to the English or French Government were truly described, we should certainly not be very far from war. But we have a strong impression that neither North America nor the Western Powers of Europe will have recourse to arms whatever difficulties may arise. England would probably submit the claims of the United States that could be at all defended upon the principles of international law, to the arbitration of some European Power, such as Belgium, and, in the event of a decision in favour of the United States, pay whatever compensation might be required. Were Mr. Johnson to rush into a conflict with the two great maritime and military nations, he would risk the establishment of a military government, and the destruction of the liberties of America herself. What may be the results of the war no one can forecast, but we have not lost confidence either in the resources of England and France, or in the courage and spirit of their people.

The indictment of Generals Lee and Longstreet by a grand jury does imply that they are arrested and will be tried for treason. It is in the power of forward and bitter spirits to set in motion the law; but no one can imagine that America will suffer one of her greatest soldiers and purest statesmen to incur a penalty which the opinion of the world would condemn, even if inflicted upon the most worthless of the rebels. It must be expected that the criminal law will be invoked by certain sections of the people until the meeting of Congress shall authorise a general amnesty, so far as personal penalties are concerned. To treat as criminals six millions of men would be to outrage civilisation, and to select such men for vengeance will stain the Government of the United States with eternal infamy.

In referring generally to the warlike intelligence from America, we direct special attention to the terms in which it is expressed. It is given nowhere upon official authority, but seems either to have come originally from the correspondent of the New York Herald, and to have no higher support than rumour. It is more likely that the inventive genius of an American correspondent, so graphically described by Russell, has anticipated the possible course of American policy, than that such grave questions should reach the world through such a medium. While, however, rumours of the kind reach us, we are again reminded of the undefended condition of the harbour, and the possibility in the complication of European and American affairs, that what has been so often predicted may some day be found to be a fatal truth.

It is probable that for many successive months—perhaps for successive years—we may hear that there are great difficulties in the way of a satisfactory organisation of negro labour in the conquered States of the Confederacy. Slavery has been established for a century in America; its effects cannot be neutralised in a day. It is a favourite maxim with natural philosophers—nihil per saltum, and the growth of nations is as regular and normal as the growth of vegetation. Four millions of people who have been demoralised by bondage, cannot be brought by magic into the same social and political status as the dominant and superior race. The sword has conquered their freedom and the law has proclaimed it, but neither the sword nor the law can destroy the barbarising effects that slavery has produced. What the law can do is to put the negro race in America in the best position for developing its own destiny, and this will be done. The late slaves will be free. Their persons and their property will be under protection. They will have all the opportunities of education which have hitherto been denied to them. They will be under no civil disability, and they will be quickened by all the aspirations which the new prospects before them are so well calculated to kindle.

That many will prove themselves worthy of their new destiny is certain, that many will prove themselves utterly unworthy is equally certain. It is probable that the great mass of them will require to be placed for a term of years under some special organisation, and that for a time there will be different laws for the white man and the black man.

The attempt at graduated emancipation was made in the West Indies and failed, but the failure was mainly owing to the incurable unwillingness of the planters to do justice to their former slaves. If they could have frankly accepted the new condition of things they might have warded off a great deal of the bankruptcy that ensued, and with the elevation of their own servants they would have increased their own prosperity. A great deal of the indolence of the negroes which was subsequently complained of has been proved to be due to the unwillingness or the inability of the employers to give them fair wages.

How far the same settled hostility to the spirit of emancipation will be exhibited in the Southern States it is impossible at present to conjecture. It would be practical wisdom for the slave-owners to admit that slavery has been destroyed by the sword that was drawn in its defence. But pride and obstinacy naturally stand in the way of such an admission. The next generation of Southerners will admit that their fathers were wrong, for liberty will vindicate itself by material prosperity. But it is hard for those who have fought with almost unequalled valour and self-sacrifice to acknowledge that they fought in a bad cause. This is more than can be expected of human nature. It is reasonable, therefore, to anticipate that there will be a good deal of dogged and stubborn opposition to the working out of an emancipation policy, and that there will not be so rapid a settlement of the new regime as might be brought about if there were a cordial co-operation among all classes.

It will be an error, however, to assume that all the unsatisfactory experience of the West Indies will be repeated in America. Apart from the advantage which is to be obtained from that experience, the Americans have many other local advantages for settling the question. They have an abundance of waste land on which the better class of negroes may be settled as freeholders, or as State tenants, with the power to work out by industry a freehold position. There will also probably be available large areas of confiscated land, and this land will be mostly cleared and ready to yield returns without any special outlay for cultivation. The possession of land has hitherto been denied to the negroes, but it will become an object of ambition to many. The temporary schemes of free plantations which have been tried during the war have been far from unpromising, and the principles on which they have been carried out may be afforded a wider application.

Then, too, there is a large free population in the Union interested nationally and commercially in developing the prosperity of the South, and singularly energetic in carrying out its projects. There was nothing of the kind in the West Indies. Those islands did not contain within themselves the elements of a sudden recuperation, and they were too remote to receive the overflow of capital and emigration from the mother country. But in the United States it is different. The South will not be left to itself to recover slowly by means of its own unaided resources. The commercial connection with the North had always been close, it will now be closer still. Capital and labour will flow south to repair the devastations of war. The negroes will not see everywhere as they did in Jamaica estates going to ruin and landlords too impoverished to do justice to the land. The signs of returning prosperity will be visible all around, and in the midst of this prosperity the negro will find his place better than was possible in islands where commerce was stagnant.

The American Government being in the position of a conqueror has a power of direct interference which the British Government never exercised towards its own colonies. The working out of the Emancipation policy will not be left to the State Governments which are still infected with the pro-slavery element. If the doctrine of State-rights is not exploded, the fact is, at any rate, as respects the subjugated States. It is at the option of the conquerors to re-establish State Governments as it pleases, and with whatever restrictions and limitations, or with whatever reserved power of interference it may think proper. And it is almost certain that the Federal Government will retain the power of legislating with regard to the negroes, or, at any rate, the power of vetoing State legislation on that question. Having emancipated the negroes, it stands committed to seeing that the emancipation policy has a fair trial. The direct action of the Government, therefore, will be continuously and strenuously exerted to solve the social problem, and this was never done in the West Indies.

There will be much confusion at first. Neither employers nor negroes will quite understand their new position, or what it is best for them to do. But the best among both classes will naturally give the tone, and others will follow their leadership. As the authority of Government is restored and the rights of property become determined, self-interest will stimulate industry, and that will gradually develop a wholesome social organisation. It is said that the expected revival of trade has not yet shewn itself, nor can it for a time. There can be no trade without buyers, and the impoverished Southerners can have little to spend till they have begun to create fresh wealth. Whatever cotton may remain in stock is available for them to start with, unless the Government seizes it all; but planting operations must be resumed to lay a basis for renewed commerce.

Deputation.—Yesterday morning the Colonial Treasurer was waited upon by a deputation of masters of vessels trading to the North, with reference to the placing of lights at the entrances to the Manning, Clarence, and Richmond Rivers. The deputation, which was introduced by Mr. Joseph, M.L.A., consisted of the following gentlemen:—Captains Knight, Paddle, and Chatfield, of the A. S. N. Company; Captain Curphy, of the Q. S. N. Company; and Captain Mann, of the C. and R. R. S. N. Company. Mr. Joseph stated that the object of the deputation was to point out to the Minister the advantage that the Coasting and Intercolonial trade would derive from the establishment of four small and inexpensive lights—namely, at the Manning, Richmond, and Clarence Rivers, and at Broken Bay, to be placed on sites indicated, near the most dangerous parts of the coast. The coast near the Manning was stated to be low, forming a dangerous bight into which vessels were likely to set during the night; it was also in close proximity to Crowdy Head, the key to that dangerous shoal the Mermaid Reef. It was also mentioned that the Richmond River Heads were similarly situated with respect to the deep indentation of the coast, known as the Richmond River Bight, immediately south of the river, the coast land of which was low and dangerous. The deputation wished to suggest the placing of kerosene lights, similar to those in use in the colony of Queensland, which had not cost more than £100 each; and as there were pilot establishments at the places at which lights were desired, the cost of maintaining each of them was estimated at about £20 per annum. Mr. Smart promised that the matter should receive the earnest attention of the Government, and he would confer with Captain Hixson, and that if it were found practicable the wishes of the deputation should be carried out.

Exhibition of Frith's "Derby Day."—This celebrated picture, which has during the last few months been exhibited at the principal places in the other colonies, arrived here on Wednesday last, and is now on view in one of the lodge rooms at the Freemasons' Hotel, in York-street. Some difficulty appears to have been met with in finding a suitable room, and a larger and better room than that now selected might have been desired; the light, however, is considered to be well adapted for the advantageous exhibition of the picture. It was at first intended that the "Derby Day" should be on view for more than a month in Sydney, but as peremptory orders came out by the late mail for its immediate return to England, it can only be exhibited here for a week. It is probably well known that this valuable picture was purchased by Mr. Jacob Bell, who bequeathed it to the English nation, subject to Mr. Gambart's right to engrave and exhibit it, and that it will, on reaching England, be placed in the National Gallery. The large number of visits that have been paid to the picture, and the admiration it has gained, in these colonies, proves that its merits have been well appreciated in Australia. When first exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1858, so great a crowd was constantly assembled in front of it, that it was found necessary to protect it by an iron railing, and also to station a policeman near it. We may safely venture to predict that the praises that have been bestowed upon the picture in other places will be repeated in Sydney, and that admiration and wonder will be expressed at the variety of the incidents introduced, at the skilful grouping, at the splendid colouring, and at its many other excellencies. The scene represented is a portion of the immense crowd assembled on the Epsom Course on the great Cockney festival; the line of carriages, and rows of spectators stretch far away into the distance; in the background is the grand stand, every part of which is thronged with people; and here and there a jockey is trotting his horse in preparation for the coming race. But the main interest of the picture is concentrated to four or five groups of people in the foreground, who are whiling away in various diversions the interval between the events; they are well-known types of certain classes of race-frequenters, and are all depicted with wonderful distinctness. No verbal description of the figures or the incidents could give an adequate idea of the picture; nor is this necessary, as the public have now the opportunity of seeing it for themselves. Never before has a painting of such value been on view in this city, and it is matter for regret that it should remain here for so short a period. We may mention that the picture will be exhibited from 11 o'clock till 5, and also in the evenings by gaslight.

Singular Accident.—Two horses, the property of Mr. James Campbell, M.L.A., strayed from that gentleman's stables at Waverley, on Thursday night. One of the animals returned, but the other found its way to the reserve at the Flagstaff, and by some mischance fell over the cliff into Argyle-street, a distance of about thirty feet. The poor brute was found there yesterday morning, but was so much injured that it could not rise. The horse, which was a valuable steed, was shot in the course of the afternoon.

Death from Burning.—A child, named Mary Ann Lewis, whose parents live in Broughton-street, Glebe, died yesterday from the result of burns which she accidentally received on Thursday afternoon. It is understood that in the temporary absence of her mother deceased fell into the fire and its clothes ignited. An inquest is to be held before the City Coroner to-day.

Master's Office.—In the matter of M'Culloch's costs and Sempill, second items; Cooper v. Cooper and another, to deliver exhibits.

ADELAIDE.

Friday, 7 p.m.

Dr. J. H. Brown and Captain Hart, M.P., have been appointed local directors of the Union Bank.

His Excellency the Governor is to inspect the new Town Hall to-morrow.

It appears, from Government statistics, that there has been a falling off of 60,000 head in the stock of cattle in South Australia, in the last four years.

Business is suspended, owing to the arrival of the English mail.

Sudden Death.—A man, named Thomas Saville, died suddenly in Sydney-place, off Goulburn-street, on Thursday night. Deceased is described as a half-witted man of the vagrant class, who was accustomed to wander barefoot in the neighbourhood of the Haymarket. An inquiry is to be held at the Coroner's office this morning.

Soiree.—The first anniversary of the Pitt-street Young Men's Mutual Improvement Society was celebrated last evening by a social tea-meeting and soiree in the Congregational School-room, which was tastefully decorated with flags and evergreens. About four hundred persons partook of the repast, which was plentifully supplied with every appropriate comestible, and served with general satisfaction. Shortly after it was concluded, the party re-assembled at a meeting presided over by the Rev. J. Graham. The report of the second session of the institution was read by Mr. Andrew Fairfax, after which the meeting was agreeably entertained by a musical soiree of some excellent vocal and instrumental music and recitations. The audience was briefly addressed by the reverend president and by the Rev. Mr. Griffith (of Brisbane), and Professor Hill, the well-known elocutionist, being present as a friend, gave two admirable recitations—"The death of Paul Dombey" (Dickens), and "The Bridge of Sighs" (Hood). "The Village Blacksmith," "Nil Desperandum," and "The Christian Martyr" were admirably sung by a member of the institution. The proceedings closed with a benediction, pronounced by the Rev. Mr Johnson.

The Nicol Bay Expedition.—The following extract from a letter just to hand from Portland relative to the Nicol Bay settlement will be read with interest:—"Several letters have been received from the Nicol Bay settlers. They write in excellent spirits and speak well of the country. Mr. E. Anderson and party have been remarkably fortunate, having succeeded in taking their stock over without any losses to speak of. They have got hold of a fine tract of country, on which their stock are doing well. Mr. M'Leod was very unfortunate with his stock on the passage and immediately after landing. He has now only 300 sheep out of about 1,000. I also read a letter from Venn, who went away with Robe with the Camden Harbour party. He speaks well of the country; and as for the climate, he wears the same sort of clothes he did in the South-East. The party with which he sailed had heard the disastrous news about Camden Harbour and the party that preceded them, so they determined to land at Nicol Bay. This intelligence has quite cheered the Portland friends of the adventurers after the bad accounts that came to hand of the first Camden Harbour lot."—Border Watch, July 22.

Night Attack on Dunedin.—The Otago Daily Times says:—The Volunteers had a special bit of exercise last night; one portion representing assailants and the others defenders of the city. The matter had been arranged for a few days, so far as that the attack was probably to be made last night or to-night; but a "surprise" was carried out, as nearly as such a thing was possible, in a sham fight. The idea worked out was that an enemy's armed vessel had steamed from the Head to Port Chalmers, unmolested and unobserved; and that the Volunteer forces of the city, having a few men on duty at a guard-house (the Fire Brigade room) and some sentries on duty, had no notice of the danger until the enemy had come to an anchor, and dispatched all her boats, with others seized and armed for the purpose, to attack and plunder the city. Signals were then given of danger at hand; and there was a rapid muster of artillery and rifles, who were stationed at different points in Rattray-street, Princess-street, Bond-street, Jetty-street, &c., the whole being under the command of Captain and Adjutant Graham. The disposition of the force was made under the assumption that the enemy would have full information of the locale of the Treasury and the banks; and that the strength of the attack would be directed towards obtaining possession of those premises. The enemy were represented by the different contingents of the Naval Brigade, under the command of Captain Paterson. The attacking force, which came up the river in a steamer, commenced shelling the town, and firing guns, to cover the landing of the troops. The sentries retired under cover of the buildings and the artillery, with the Armstrong gun, moved forward to oppose the landing, which was, however, effected at the Old Jetty, about half-past 2 o'clock a.m. The principal point of attack was near the Bank of New Zealand, where the enemy were smartly received by the different bodies of troops, who were successively brought into action as their assistance was needed. The Armstrong gun, having been moved into Bond-street, continued at intervals to reply to the fire of the steamer, as she slowly steamed round the bay, showing blue lights at intervals, as signals of whereabouts. After a short conflict the enemy were driven by the troops concentrating on that point, on to Rattray-street Jetty, when the conflict finally terminated by the surrender of the attacking party; the steamer having been previously taken by a detachment of No. 2 Company, so that when the Port Chalmer Contingent arrived, to take refuge on board, they also had to surrender. The affair concluded about 4 a.m. The night was beautifully fine, and many people assembled to witness the proceedings, which, we believe, were conducted without any other accident than the breaking of a good many panes of glass through the firing of the Armstrong gun.

The Black Police.—Lieutenant Murray, of the Queensland Mounted Police, having paid another visit to these districts for the purpose of obtaining more recruits, is about to start homeward with about a score of aboriginals obtained from Paika and the Lower Murrumbidgee. He represents that he was anxious to obtain 100, as, when drilled, they were invaluable as protectors of property in the distant settlements of the North. Those obtained from this neighbourhood last year he states are thoroughly satisfied with their new home, and considers that during the past twelve months they have been the means of saving some £50,000 worth of property, to say nothing of lives which might otherwise have been sacrificed. He seems very much annoyed at and denies the truthfulness of the accounts which have been published respecting the indiscriminate slaughter of the natives by their fellow-countrymen brought from a distance and organised into a police force in Queensland. It has been represented, with what truth we of course are not prepared to say, that when an outrage has occurred, all the natives found in the neighbourhood are, without inquiry, assumed to be guilty, and ruthlessly treated with sudden vengeance. Lieutenant Murray denies the possibility of this occurring, as the evidence of guilt is always sought for by means of tracks from the scene of outrage to the camping ground, and all deaths have to be officially reported to the Attorney-General. Notwithstanding this denial, we believe the treatment which the aboriginals throughout Australia have generally received from colonial Governments and many settlers in the far interior to be of that character as to render the more humane portion of the public exceedingly and very properly jealous of the employment of the force referred to, unless under the strict supervision and constant guidance of conscientious officers. But the treatment which native populations of any country have received at the hands of an immigrating and energetic race has, however, scarcely ever approached the standard which should have been maintained, and the public rarely becomes conscious of its duty until the aboriginals have sunk into irreparable decadence. The recruits for this service are engaged for five years, and then, if they require it, are returned to the locality from which they are taken. This, however, they rarely wish. They have regular and liberal daily rations, are provided with four suits of clothes yearly, and have two horses; they are drilled the same as soldiers, and then are represented by their officers as forming a very effective police.—Deniliquin Chronicle.

Mortality Amongst the Fish.—It is rather an extraordinary thing that the fish in the Darling and Murray are dying in thousands. The blacks never saw such a thing before, and are quite alarmed about it; some say that the heavy frosts kill them, but I can hardly attribute it to the cold, as the largest codfish dies as well as the smallest fish; it is surprising to see tons of fish daily floating down the rivers.—Correspondent of the Pastoral Times.

Bismuth.—The S. A. Register has been favoured by Mr. Darwent with two ingots of bismuth, smelted by Mr. Cossins from the produce of the Murninnie Mine, situated near the western coast of Spencer's Gulf, between Port Lincoln and Port Augusta, nearly opposite Wallaroo. The ingots, which consist of pure metal, weigh about 7 lbs. each; and we understand that there are about a dozen of them at Mr. Darwent's office, where those who feel interested in native productions can gratify their curiosity. Each ingot is stamped with the company's mark, viz., "MBCM & S Co." (Murninnie Bismuth Copper Mining and Smelting Company).

OUR POSITION AND PROSPECTS IN INDIA.

India is a subject on which it would seem impossible to arouse the attention of Englishmen by anything short of a convulsion. We have gained—by what means we need not now examine—one of the most splendid empires ever held by a warlike race on the somewhat questionable tenure of the sword. The regions which Alexander the Great only knew in their north-western extremity—which were a wonder and a mystery to Greeks and Romans—which were among the fairest acquisitions of Moslem conquerors, and for the possession of which France disputed with us beneath the fiery sun of the Carnatic—have become, through by far their greatest extent, the inheritance of our race; and yet, as a nation, we cannot be persuaded to interest ourselves in the condition and prospects of this magnificent dependency. A few Englishmen make gigantic fortunes there; a few Englishwomen find husbands of enormous wealth and of enlarged livers; we maintain an army of 70,000 British troops to watch another army of native Hindus and Mahometans; we have on our hands now a war and now a rebellion; we are constructing railways, and laying down telegraphic lines, and attempting to convert the people to Christianity; yet, when Sir Charles Wood rises to bring in his Indian Budget, he can barely get a "House," and a very few people read the report next morning in the daily papers. Hindustan makes Queen Victoria an Empress; but it cannot excite in the English people at large sufficient interest to induce them to inquire whether the Indian revenue shows a surplus or a deficit, whether the country is well or ill governed, whether the population is contented or only sullenly submissive, or whether or not we are to expect some day another outbreak like that which eight years ago brought gloom over all England, Scotland, and Ireland. This indifference is of course extremely regrettable, but we can hardly say that it is surprising. The political and social condition of an Asiatic country is so entirely distinct from that of any European land, that without special training it is not easy to be understood. Even with respect to Continental States, Englishmen are not generally as well-informed as could be wished; but the difference between English politics and those of France, Italy, or Germany is comparatively slight, and, if any thing remarkable occurs at Paris, Turin, Rome, Vienna, Berlin, or Dresden, the leading facts may be speedily "read up," and a reasonable judgment formed. In India, we are brought face to face with an Oriental people, whose religion, social habits, ideas of morality, theories of government, and systems of territorial possession, are the very antipodes of our own. To acquire a thorough knowledge of Indian affairs is the study of a life; and the difficulty is increased by the fact of the land having had several conquerors, who have introduced a variety of customs, all of which must be understood ere we can fully grasp the exact condition of that distant empire. The ordinary stay-at-home Englishman, who has his own work to attend to, will not, and indeed cannot, give the time necessary for such a study. He is repelled at the outset by unpronounceable names and words; and he leaves the whole subject in the hands of those who make it their business to know.

To the Anglo-Indian, however, this disregard of such grave and weighty interests is incomprehensible. He inveighs against the dulness or the levity of his countrymen, and from time to time endeavours to rouse their apathy by promises of still more extended empire, or by threats of approaching insurrection. We have before us two pamphlets written by a British officer who has served in the East, and who has therefore had personal experience of the subject of which he treats. If we are to place reliance on what he says, we shall speedily be forced to take note of our Indian possessions in a very disagreeable way. He tells us that we have effected no real pacification since the awful insurrection which it cost us so much blood and treasure to put down; that the people generally are unreconciled to our rule; that the native army cannot be trusted; that the native police are our covert enemies; and that all are waiting their opportunity to rebel, and to repeat, perhaps on a yet larger scale, the horrors of 1857-8. "Our position in the country," we are told, "is that of conquerors hated by the subject races." If this be so, it is a serious question how far we have any moral right to be in the country at all; and it is a grave impeachment, either of our position there under any circumstances whatever, or of the use which we have made of that position, that after so many years of rule we should still have nothing but unwilling subjects and a menacing future. But the more important consideration for the present is how to provide against the danger hanging over us, supposing it really to exist. That it is not wholly imaginary we can well believe. The native Indian is not disinclined to submit to superior force, and it may be that the mere fact of subjection does not greatly vex his spirit. But he will not readily tolerate the dominion of a pale-faced people from the north-west, with ideas and habits totally dissimilar to his own—with a religion which seems incapable of taking root in the extreme East, and with a tendency to innovation in those very matters which are the dearest to the native mind. We have shown too much rapacity and double-dealing in the acquisition of new territory to permit either Hindus or Mahometans to hold our moral character in any very awful estimation; and we were too nearly overwhelmed in the last outbreak to leave on their minds the impression of inviolable predominance. We can therefore perfectly well understand that there may be a smouldering fire of antagonism lurking under that superficial crust of deference and servility, and that the hope may be entertained of another rising, more successful than the last. It is important in that case to ascertain the views of experienced men as to the measures which ought to be taken as a precaution against so frightful a peril; and the "British Officer" whose pamphlets we are considering is not backward in telling us what, in his opinion, would be the wisest course. Strange to say, after arousing our fears about the unreliability of the Sepoys, the native police, and the population generally, he goes on to advocate a considerable reduction in the number of British troops in India. He would strike off 20,000 men from the 70,000 we now maintain there. His argument for this step is that we cannot keep up such a drain on our resources without severely crippling ourselves, and endangering our position in Europe as a first-class Power, in case of a general war in which we might be forced to join. We think he does not sufficiently regard the unmistakable tendency exhibited by this country of late years to adopt a policy of non-intervention. Even in the brief period which has elapsed since the Crimean war, we have seen an immense increase in the disposition of all classes—for reasons sometimes most wise and commendable, sometimes, it is to be feared, merely selfish—to keep clear of Continental imbroglios. Still, it is quite possible that, in a moment of passion or of aroused self-interest, we might find ourselves once more face to face with one of the great European Powers; and in that case we would probably be compelled to recall some of our Indian regiments, as the Romans recalled their legions from Gaul and Britain when the Empire was threatened nearer to the heart. But could we withdraw 20,000 of our men from India consistently with the safety of our power in that land? The "British Officer" says we could, if at the same time we reduced the native army, rendered our own troops more efficient by greater attention to their health, reorganised the native police by bringing it more under the control of English officers, and made better progress with railways and electric telegraphs, laying them out with a view not merely to convenience, but also to strategic purposes. Assuming that India is really in the volcanic state indicated by our authority (and we have but too much reason to fear that there is considerable truth in the assertion), we cannot agree in the advisability of removing a single man from our Eastern possessions. It appears to us that the "British Officer's" facts and his recommendations are at issue with one another. England must always maintain a large force of natives, and it has already been seen how fiercely they can turn upon us, and what difficult enemies they are to deal with. How any reorganisation of the native police, even supposing all the officers to be English, can neutralise their ability to be mischievous, when we are told that every man among them sympathises warmly with the population from which they are drawn, we are at a loss to conceive. No doubt they should be officered by ourselves; but they would still be enabled to plot against us, if they had the mind, though with less readiness than before. Better sanitary regulations for our troops are unquestionably needed, and the construction of railways, with an eye to the rapid transport and concentration of regiments, would obviously be a great increase to our strength. But, if the whole of India is stirring uneasily under our yoke, and the very men whom we have trained and armed are the most likely to fly at our throats directly they think they can do so with a fair chance of success, 70,000 British troops do not appear too large a force to keep such an enemy in check. It is an ignominious confession to make, but it is none the less true, that we can only hold India by the sword. This may be a prospect which offers little satisfaction to our ambition; but it is that to which we must accommodate ourselves at last, because it is most in harmony with the conditions of the case.—London Review.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

FROM AUGUST 4TH TO AUGUST 11TH.

In the trial of a case in the Supreme Court—Church and another versus North—commenced on the 3rd and terminated on the 4th instant, some very peculiar revelations were made as to certain parties engaged in the beer and spirit trade who, it was admitted, had "doctored" and "restored" undrinkable ales and spirituous liquors, with a view to rendering them saleable.

Mr. John Wells, who has for many years held the office of accountant at the Treasury, is to succeed Mr. Lane as Under Secretary for Finance and Trade.

A handsome monument of black marble has just arrived from England, to be placed over the vault containing the remains of the late Dean Grant in the Roman Catholic Church at Bathurst. The block is six feet long by three and a half wide, and has a beautiful polish. In the centre is a brass cross, inlaid with various rich colours, and at the ends of the arms are figures representing the four Evangelists. The monument is otherwise appropriately ornamented, and bears a suitable inscription.

A dinner was given to Mr. Hurtle Fisher on the 1st instant, at Tattersall's Hotel, by some supporters of the turf in this colony who wished to welcome his arrival, and to show how they appreciate his energy in importing to the Australian colonies some of the best racehorses that England has produced.

The offence of "planting" horses—that is concealing them in out-of-the-way places in the bush for the purpose of obtaining "smart" money from the owners—is stated to be on the increase at Forbes. It appears to be a mild form of the bushranging epidemic.

A stray bullock bolted from a herd of cattle in Hunter-street, Maitland, on the 1st instant, and rushed into a shop, to the no small consternation of the shopkeeper and his wife. The animal was, however, soon got out, with much less difficulty and damage than might have been anticipated.

A public meeting of residents at the North Shore was held on the evening of the 4th instant, at the School of Arts, for the purpose of obtaining signatures to a petition to the Government against an application that had been made by Mr. Milson, sen., to purchase a Crown land reserve at Lavender Bay. Resolutions were passed affirmative of the purpose for which the meeting had been convened, and a petition to the Government was adopted and signed.

The Yass Courier states that the telegraph wire (second line) has been broken between Bogolong and the Five Mile Creek, and forty yards of it stolen.

There have lately been some extraordinary yields of gold in the claims at Araluen, near Redbank. In one, it is stated to be no uncommon thing to get as much as forty-six ounces in a day. Upon one occasion half an ounce was obtained from a single shovelful of dirt.

Some curious information has recently been afforded by a Mr. Yarrington, respecting the Scrub Turkey and its habits. Its nests are described as being extremely large. Mr. Yarrington states that he has seen the large nests he has described, "on the Boyne and Auburn Rivers, on the Cooyah and Toowoomba ranges in Nanango, on Gowrie, and the Bottle Tree Plains, between Maryborough and Gayndah," that, in fact, one nest which he found on the Mundubera run, "appeared more like a small thatched cottage than anything else."

A powder magazine is now being built by three of the principal business firms of West Maitland, viz., Messrs. Cohen and Co., Capper and Sons, and Strachan and Co. The site of the magazine is in Rutherford paddock, about 300 yards from the road.

During the past week there has been a heavy fall of rain, but the weather has, during the last twenty-four hours, appeared likely to take a decided change for the better.

Sir D. A. Cameron, late Commander of the Troops in New Zealand, with his staff, arrived in Sydney by the steamer from Auckland, on Monday, the 7th instant, and purposes to return to England by the next mail steamer. General Carey was also a passenger by the steamer, and will at once proceed to Melbourne to relieve Brigadier-General Chute, who will succeed General Cameron in the command of the troops in New Zealand.

The concert in which Mr. Heine (a blind violinist, who has earned European eminence as an instrumentalist, and before the most critical audiences) made his first appearance in Sydney, took place last Monday evening at the School of Arts.

Preparations have been commenced for the temporary building required for the accommodation of those who attended divine service at St. Mary's Cathedral.

On the 7th instant, the Rev. Thomas Smith again delivered his lecture on the Life and Times of George Whitfield; and on the same evening Mr. Wilkins delivered a lecture on "Congregational Singing," in the Wesleyan Church, York-street.

A new process for preserving meat (so as to keep it fresh) is engaging public attention. Samples were examined by the Minister for Lands, the Speaker of the Assembly, and other influential persons, on Saturday last, at the office of Mr. T. Dawson, the auctioneer. The process was stated to consist of immersing the meat intended for preservation in a liquid, and the meat, with the bone in it, subjected to the preservation, will, if hung up in the air, keep good several weeks. A tin was opened in presence of the above mentioned gentlemen, and the beef found to have the appearance and smell of meat as it ordinarily hangs in a butcher's shop. It is proposed to have the process patented in all the colonies.

Two men robbed a man named Tuffy at Goulburn, last Wednesday week, one of them attempting to throttle him whilst the other secured his money. They brutally ill-used the poor fellow and broke one of his ribs.

The twelfth monthly meeting of the Church of England Sunday-School Union was held last Monday evening, at the Church Society's Rooms, in Phillip-street, when the Rev. William Stack, of Balmain, delivered an interesting and instructive lecture on the History of the Antediluvian World.

Last Tuesday evening a concert was given by the choir of St. Paul's Church, Redfern, the object being to raise funds to purchase a harmonium for the use of the school.

During the past week the Kent-street Primitive Methodist Chapel Anniversary has been observed with the usual devotional exercises and social gatherings.

Last Tuesday evening, Mr. R. W. M. Johnson delivered, at the Temperance Hall, in Pitt-street, an admirable lecture on the life and writings of Douglas Jerrold, in the presence of a numerous audience.

The congregation and other friends of the Rev. J. Gibson, of the Congregational Church, Campbelltown, have welcomed that gentleman back to the colony at a tea meeting held a few days since.

A soiree in connection with the Newtown School of Arts was held last Tuesday evening. The hall was crowded. After tea the audience were entertained with music, and short addresses were delivered at intervals. The chair was taken by Mr. S. C. Brown, and there were also present on the platform the Rev. Messrs. S. C. Kent, Donald, Agnew, and Oram; Mr. Thomas Holt, of the Warren, and members of the committee.

At the selection practice for the Intercolonial Rifle Match on Wednesday last, Mr. Slade's total was 124 points, and Mr. Brownlow's (the next under him), 120.

Amongst the recent deaths we have to record the following cases: An unfortunate man, named John Levey, died in the Infirmary on the 1st instant, from the effects of wounds suicidally inflicted upon himself at Bargo, about three weeks since.—A man, named Charles Joseph Holmes, died in the Infirmary on the 3rd instant, from the result of an accident which happened to him in June last, when he fell from a ladder whilst he was in a delicate state of health.—Mr. James Gregory, of Tattersall's Hotel, Grafton, died suddenly on Monday, the 31st ultimo, of congestion of the heart.—A man named William Parker committed suicide, in a lodging-house, at Newcastle, by cutting his throat with a razor, on Saturday morning last.—A vine-dresser named Nicholas Foran, in the service of Mrs. Bettington, of Oaklands, near Parramatta, was accidentally killed by falling down a cellar, on the 3rd instant.—Mr. Henry Poulton died near Singleton, last Wednesday week, from injuries received by the upsetting of a cart.—At sunrise on Monday morning, the 31st ultimo, an aged man, named Lawrence Griffith, was found dead by a Chinaman, in front of the gateway of a sheepyard at Cook's Corner, a station belonging to Mr. Icely, near Carcoar. From the appearance of the face it is supposed he died in a fit.—A distressing instance of self-destruction occurred in Sydney on the 9th instant. Bridget Burke, the wife of a butcher of that name, living in Union-lane, cut her throat with a razor. The poor creature was evidently suffering under mental depression after her confinement, and had obviously been predisposed to insanity.—A telegram states that Mr. Gill (who was thrown from his horse and severely injured on Sunday last, near Bowning) died, on Thursday, the 10th instant.

At the meeting of the members of the Young Men's Presbyterian Institute, held last Wednesday evening, in the Free Church, Macquarie-street, Mr. H. Hossack in the chair, an essay on the Scottish hero William of the topics introduced by the essayist gave rise to a short debate.

The Rev. W. Kelynack delivered a lecture at the New Wesleyan Church, at the Glebe, on Wednesday evening, on the subject of "George Stephenson, his life, and its lessons."

The claims on the Gravel Hill, at Glanmire, are turning out well, as the drift there, which runs to a depth varying from twelve to forty feet from the surface, has been ascertained to be all more or less auriferous.

The first of a series of lectures in defence of doctrines publicly denied by a Unitarian Minister of Sydney, was delivered last Thursday night, at the Baptist Church assembling in the Temperance Hall, Pitt-street, by the Rev. W. Ridley.

On Monday evening last, the members of the Pitt-street Young Men's Mutual Improvement Society elected their officers for the ensuing year.

On Tuesday evening last a considerable flame was observed in a south-easterly direction from Maitland by many residents of the town. On inquiry, it was ascertained that an old and deep worked-out coal pit, known as Tulip, Nixon, and Christian's, situated about a mile from Rathluba, had been on fire for three or four years past, and had, from some cause, burst out into flames.

The Clarence and Richmond Examiner calls attention to a very fine specimen of the pineapple grown on the river by Mr. Sommervale, on an island in the north arm of the Clarence River. It is stated that the fruit produced is quite equal to the famous Moreton Bay pines.

The Warialda mailman, coming from Tamworth, was stuck-up on Wednesday, the 9th instant, about forty miles from that place, by an armed man. The mailman said he recognised Captain Thunderbolt, who stuck him up near the same place in April last.

The Tumut Times states that the race of aboriginals known as the Doomut or Tumut blacks is fast becoming extinct, another of the tribe having succumbed to death. For some time past, Hannibal Hamilton, king of the Tumut tribe, has been declining, and on Saturday night he died. Hamilton was about fifty years of age, and for several years was in the service of Mr. E. G. Brown, of Blowering.

The skeleton of a human being was found, a few days ago, about two miles from Grudgery station, near Forbes.

LAW.

SUPREME COURT.—FRIDAY.

IN EQUITY.

BEFORE his Honor Sir ALFRED STEPHEN, C.J., Primary Judge.

LAMBE V. INGELOW.

The argument in this case was concluded, and his Honor reserved judgment.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT COURT.

FRIDAY.

BEFORE Mr. District Judge M'FARLAND.

IN RE FAWL.

This was a motion calling upon an attorney to show cause why he should not be prevented from practising in the Court, in consequence of having issued an execution to recover costs for a client to whom the sitting Judge had given costs in an action, such bill of costs including an item of five guineas as fee to a barrister, which fee had not been paid. An affidavit was filed, setting forth, among other things, that the fee had been tendered to Mr. Wilkinson, and by him refused. The matter was ably argued for the respondent by Mr. Foster, and his Honor said he should carefully consider the case, and deliver written judgment on Monday next.

CLARKSON V. FITZPATRICK.

This was an action to recover the balance of an account for goods sold and delivered. Defendant admitted a portion of the claim, but plaintiff proved his case for the whole amount, and obtained judgment for it accordingly.

TURNER V. SCRIVENER.

Plaintiff sought to recover from defendant the sum of £24, a balance alleged to be due to him as wages. Plaintiff was at one time in defendant's employ, and being accused by him (defendant) of embezzlement, was examined at the Police Court, committed for trial, and convicted in April, 1864. Plaintiff averred that the money now sued for was due to him at the time of his arrest, and that he had accounted for the moneys alleged to have been embezzled. Mr. Salomons, for defendant, applied for a nonsuit on the ground that the plaintiff by his own admission was a convicted felon in April, 1864, and that the moneys now alleged to be due to him accrued prior to his conviction; the Crown was entitled to dispose of any money accruing to a convicted felon. His Honor nonsuited plaintiff, for whom Mr. Hellyer appeared.

HINDON V. WOODCOCK.

A claim of £5 14s. for work and labour done under a verbal agreement. The plaintiff, for whom Mr. Maguire appeared, having proved his case to the satisfaction of the Court, got a verdict for the amount claimed.

HILL V. CRAIG.

The parties to this action were before the Court on Thursday, the present plaintiff being then defendant, and present defendant, plaintiff. Plaintiff, the owner of a vessel of which defendant was master, now sued to recover the sum of £5 alleged to have been received on his (plaintiff's) account for freight. Defendant was in the habit, as plaintiff alleged, of receiving money on plaintiff's account, and receiving five per cent. commission for his trouble in collecting, &c. In the present case, it was stated that he had received £5 from one James, and had never accounted for it. Defendant denied that he ever received the money from James. Verdict for plaintiff, for whom Mr. Simpson appeared, Mr. Weedon for defendant.

YATES V. M'CARTHY.

Plaintiff, a boat builder, claimed £8 10s. for building a boat for defendant in 1863. It appeared from the evidence that the defendant had done part of the work himself, and had paid plaintiff £2, besides giving him a pair of boots valued at 12s. 6d. Verdict for plaintiff for £4 8s. 6d. Mr. R. Jones appeared for the defendant.

O'ROURKE V. ENWAY.

A claim for some cloth entrusted to defendant to be made up and alleged to have been damaged by him, the suit of clothes being badly made and not a proper fit. Plaintiff nonsuited.

GILES AND OTHERS V. WARREN.

This was an action to recover the sum of £163, for goods sold and delivered. Defendant, a legally qualified medical practitioner, pleaded a set-off for professional services to the value of £133, and paid £30 into Court. It appeared that the defendant had attended upon plaintiff's sister for nine years, and that it was understood his fees should be taken out in goods. The estate of Giles and Co. had been transferred to other hands, and hence the action. The question as to Mr. Giles's liability, as one of the firm of Giles and Co., was argued at much length by Mr. Salomons for plaintiff, and Mr. Cory for defendant. His Honor found for the plaintiff for £146 13s. 6d., but at the same time expressed his opinion that it was a hard case for the defendant, and that every indulgence ought to be allowed to him in paying the amount.

PACKER V. MURNIN.

Plaintiff claimed for work and labour done for defendant as a surveyor. Defendant averred that he had paid moneys on defendant's account, but, being unable to prove it, plaintiff succeeded for the amount claimed.

GODFREY V. COOPER.

A claim for moneys which defendant was authorised to collect for plaintiff. Defendant produced a book containing plaintiff's signature, showing that he (defendant) had accounted for all the items now claimed for. Verdict for defendant.

In the estate of Henry Hall, a single meeting. Neither the insolvent nor any creditor attended.

The single meeting in the estate of William T. Warren was adjourned until the pending examination shall have been brought to a close.

Sarah Monaghan, and Martha Ford, were fined 10s. each, for riotous conduct, or in default of payment to be imprisoned forty-eight hours.

On the summons paper were twenty-one cases, of which four were dismissed, other four were postponed, and two were not prosecuted. W. Craick was found guilty, on the prosecution of Inspector Mitchelson, of having in his possession four loaves of bread three ounces deficient of their proper weight, and was required to pay the penalty fixed by law of 5s. for each deficient ounce. In Clark v. Hart, the defendant was called upon to show cause why he had disobeyed an order of this Bench for the delivery to Maria Clark of certain household furniture he unlawfully detained from her, and, having no cause to show was ordered to pay the amount (£14) at which they are valued, or to be imprisoned six months. In Henry v. M'Kone, for the illegal detention of a wheel, and Barrett v. Barrett, for the detention of a bedstead, orders were made for the complainants. Elizabeth Maxy was fined 10s. for Sunday trading; and Michael Harrison, publican, was fined 20s. for permitting the use of cards as gambling implements in his licensed house. Three suits for wages were decided in favour of the servants. In Andrews v. Price, for assault, the defendant was fined 20s. Bridget Brown was fined 20s. for riotous conduct, and John Brown was fined 5s. for being at such a distance from his horse and cab that he had no control over the horse.

THE ROSTER.—Messrs. Burdekin and Day have been summoned for Bench duty on Saturday.

WATER POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY.

BEFORE the Water Police Magistrate, with Mr. M. Chapman, Mr. H. Armitage, and Mr. H. C. Burnell.

James Bentley, boarding-house runner, was brought before the Court by constable Everson, into whose custody he was given last evening, charged with assaulting a special constable employed at the A. S. N. Co.'s wharf. The prosecutor, Edward Henry Williams, stated that yesterday afternoon prisoner on the arrival of the steamer Coonanbara tried to hide himself on board the steamer Boomerang, getting on board that vessel from a collier. Williams ordered him away, and gave him a push; prisoner then threatened to strike him, and afterwards hit him on the nose with his fist. Fined 40s., in default of payment to be imprisoned fourteen days.

Robert Friend, 22, a steward of the Royal Mail steamship Jeddo, was given into the custody of senior-constable Miller, this morning, charged with having committed a violent assault. From the evidence it appeared that whilst prisoner and the steward of the same vessel, named Lewis Hutchins, were in one of the fore-cabins prisoner got hold of the clothes belonging to the bed occupied by Hutchins and commenced pulling them, Hutchins at the same time keeping hold of them. Friend took off his coat, and struck him several times. Hutchins picked up a goblet, and threatened to strike him with it if he did not desist. Friend then seized a washing basin, and with it struck Hutchins on the head, stunning him, and smashing the basin into fragments. The affray did not end here. When Hutchins had recovered from the blow, Friend came towards him again and struck him on the head, when Hutchins threw a piece of the washing basin at him. Prisoner, in defence, stated that Hutchins first struck him on the head with the goblet. Fined £5, in default of payment to be imprisoned for one calendar month.

On the summons list there were fifteen cases; three were postponed, one dismissed and two withdrawn. Isaac Simmons, William J. Warton, William Garrett, Julius Haimberger, Richard Emerson, and Joseph Henry, were fined 15s. each with costs, for permitting rubbish to be thrown on a public lane. Patrick Cullen was fined 40s., with costs, for permitting house slops and filthy water to remain upon a public footway. John Meally, omnibus driver, for not starting with his omnibus in due rotation from the omnibus stand, Paddington, was fined 10s., with costs.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

THE OPERA.—On Saturday evening last Donizetti's charming comic opera, "L'Elisir D'Amore," was produced for the first time, and, though presented under some disadvantages, the public appreciated the music, and were very enthusiastic in their applause. Mdlle. Durand was evidently suffering from cold and an affection in the throat, and was, therefore, unable to do full justice to the character of Adina, but it was evident this lady was thoroughly acquainted with the music. Mr. F. Lyster, as Dulcamara, was certainly excellent; in opera buffa he decidedly excels, and his latest assumption is, we think, his best. His voice is not a good one, but he has that consummate artistic ability as a musician, that overcomes any natural deficiency of voice. His acting as the jolly quack is very good indeed. Mr. Beaumont created a sensation in the character of Nemorino; and this gentleman—who always sings well—never sang better than on Saturday night. The popular duet at the commencement of the third act, between Belcore (Mr. Wharton) and Nemorino, was of course encored; but the gem was Mr. Beaumont's really fine rendering of the solo "Yes, I adore thee"—which, in spite of some slight orchestral aberrations, he gave in a very animated manner, and received an enthusiastic round of applause and a unanimous encore. On Monday, "Maritana" was produced to a good house with a very successful result—the characters of Maritana and Don Cæsar are always well supported by Madame Lucy Escott and Mr. Squires. Miss Hodson performs Lazarillo very charmingly, and Mr. Wharton's Don Jose is also commendable. On Tuesday, Verdi's fine but not very popular opera of "Ernani" was revived, and, taken altogether, we have never heard the company in better voice than in this opera. The celebrated chorus "O Charlemagne" was capitally given. On Wednesday, Mr. Beaumont took a benefit, when a portion of "Norma" and "L'Elisir D'Amore" were produced—the house was full, and the beneficiare met with a good reception. The "Huguenots" was performed on Thursday evening—Madame Escott and Mr. Squires appearing in their great characters of Valentine and Sir Raoul, Mr. Kitts as Marcel, Mr. Wharton as St. Bris, Mr F. Lyster as Nevers, Miss Neville as Queen Marguerite, Miss Hodson as the page, and Mr. Beaumont as the Huguenot soldier. The opera was satisfactorily performed, and many parts were very fine indeed—the whole of the third and fourth acts may be instanced, and Miss Hodson's two beautiful solos in the first and second acts. The great duet between Valentine and Raoul was given with the highest effect. Yesterday evening "Masaniello" was again performed before a good house. The opera season for the present year terminates finally this evening, with the most successful of all Mr. Lyster's efforts, namely "Oberon." The company are to leave for Melbourne on Tuesday, and will make a tour further south and also to Tasmania. On Monday a dramatic season will commence under the general management of Mr. Charles Poole, who is well known in connection with successful theatricals in Sydney. Mr. Poole has obtained a good company and commences the season with a very popular piece lately written and produced in London with great success, entitled, "The Streets of London." Miss Cleveland is also engaged for the Prince of Wales.

THE CHRISTY'S MINSTRELS.—These talented exponents of negro melody and character have been attracting pretty good houses at the Victoria Theatre during the past week. The programme has been changed several times, and all the best selections in the extensive repertoire of these celebrated minstrels have been introduced. The burlesques of "Lucia di Lammermoor," "Lucrezia Borgia," "Italian Opera," and "Maritana" have formed the afterpieces. The Christys are announced to appear for the last time at the Victoria, this evening, and we understand they intend visiting some of the principal country towns in the course of the next fortnight.

MR. AND MRS. HEINE'S CONCERTS.—The celebrated blind violinist Mr. Heine, assisted by Mrs. Heine, who as a pianist is equally eminent with her husband, has been giving a series of concerts to moderately good houses at the School of Arts during the past week. These talented artistes have also been materially assisted in their entertainments by Mrs Cordner, who is well known to the musical public of Sydney, and Miss James, a lady amateur, whose talents as a vocalist have often been favourably noticed in our columns. Yesterday evening there was a change of programme when several new and attractive items were introduced. The most noticeable features in the entertainment yesterday evening were the solo on the violin "Tarentelle" (Vieuxtemps) by Mr. Heine, in the first part, and another solo "Il Papiti" (Paganini) in the second part, both of which the execution was most brilliant, and drew forth rapturous applause. The instrumentation of Mrs. Heine was also highly appreciated, and enthusiastically demanded encores were in several instances gracefully acceded to. The "Home, sweet home" of this lady is a magnificent performance, and it was matter of regret that the number who witnessed, and so highly appreciated it, last night, was so limited; but with the musical attractions elsewhere, a full house could hardly be expected. The programme of yesterday is announced for repetition this evening.

ERRATA.—In the article on "the Municipal Systems of Australia," which appeared in Wednesday's Herald, there is a typographical error of some importance. By Mr. Forster's District Council Bill it is proposed that the District Court Judges shall deal summarily with all Presentment Appeals under £?. It was printed £2. It should also have been stated that an advance of £1000 is proposed by the same bill to be made to each district and town to meet such expenses as may be incurred prior to the levy of a rate. This sum, however, is to be charged, as a loan against the district revenue. In the conclusion of the before-

PACKAGE DUTY AND ITS CONSEQUENCES.

To the Editor of the Herald.

SIR.—It seems to me hardly possible that Mr. Smart can be aware of the serious injury he has inflicted on this colony in refusing drawback on this obnoxious duty, and it begins to tell on us, even sooner than it was anticipated, by losing the little export trade which is left to us, and particularly so with that flourishing colony of Queensland, who are no mean customers to us, and who prefer dealing with us rather than with Melbourne, on account of our geographical position, although goods may be purchased cheaper in Melbourne than in Sydney. They cannot compete with us in so much as freight, insurance, and other expenses, which act as a check against them, but which are in our favour. But now, with that incubus of duty hanging about our necks, I am afraid we are doomed to transfer our trade (which naturally belongs to us) to our neighbours; without some of our patriotic legislators speedily come to our rescue, it will be inevitably lost to us, and I am confident that there are still left to us men who are both capable and willing to snatch this beautiful colony from utter ruin, and not let it sink into insignificance.

A simple fact will illustrate the injury the package duty has inflicted on us. A party here, connected with a house in Brisbane, being in the habit of purchasing goods in this market to the amount of £1000 weekly on an average, but since the package duty came into force he could not lay out more than a third of that amount, and that only on such things as were required from hand to mouth; but this is not the worst—the greater evil is, the party has to proceed to London by next mail to make arrangements for permanent supplies direct to Queensland, and once initiated it will be a hard task to get the trade back. Now, this is an individual case within my knowledge, and have no doubt that there are a great many more similarly situated.

HASTE TO THE RESCUE.

UNIVERSITY DEGREES.

To the Editor of the Herald.

SIR.—So many letters have of late appeared in the columns of your valuable journal all advocating a relaxation of the rules under which degrees are at present granted by the University of Sydney, that I feel moved, if it be only for the sake of taking what seems to be the weaker part, to say a few words on the opposite side of the question.

The point to which I would more particularly draw attention is one which lies at the very root of the question involved, but which, strangely enough, has—as far as their published letters show—escaped the notice of your correspondents, with the exception, perhaps, of "Codex," whose quotation from the preamble to the Act, 14 Vic., No. 31, is perhaps intended to meet the possible inquiry—what is the object of the University?

It is here that I would join issue with those who consider it desirable that candidates for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts should be exempt from attendance at the lectures delivered in the University. These gentlemen seem to be unanimously of opinion that the great object of the institution they wish to revolutionise is to confer degrees; while I, on the contrary, maintain that the primary object of the University, despite the wording of the preamble quoted by "Codex," is to teach.

"Codex" talks of the "intention of the Legislature," and "Civis Romanus" speaks of what the University was "intended to be by its founders" in terms which seem to imply that the institution has been hitherto conducted in a manner not consistent with the views of its projectors; or, in other words, that the by-laws adopted by the Senate are not in the spirit of the Act of Incorporation. But when it is remembered that the leading members of the Legislative Council which passed that Act were also leading members of the Senate which framed the by-laws under it, I think it is fair to take those by-laws as a commentary on the Act itself, and to conclude that the intentions of the founders of our University are more definitely and clearly expressed in those by-laws than anywhere else; and that the only intention of the peculiar wording of the preamble was to leave the hands of the Senate as free as possible.

Apart, however, from the bare question as to what the originators of the University meant, is it not patent to every honest mind that the power of imparting a high class of knowledge is more valuable than the privilege of certifying to the possession of that moderate degree of learning requisite to enable a man to pass a B.A. examination—just as the actual possession of knowledge is better than the mere reputation of having it? Then let those who sincerely, and without any selfish motive, wish to augment the usefulness of our Alma Mater direct their efforts rather to increase her powers and opportunities of teaching than to lessen the stringency of her rules. Let lectures be given on medicine, on engineering, on architecture, &c., so that those who cannot afford to spend three years in the acquirement of an education purely liberal may, while pursuing in her halls a course of study befitting them for a Degree in Arts, at the same time gain knowledge that will prove of professional value to them. Let her hours of lecture be so altered as to accommodate those who, pent in offices during the business hours of the day, cannot now avail themselves of her teachings. But do not compel her to grant Brummagem degrees—a degree which simply means that a satisfactory examination has been passed, is no more comparable to a degree which signifies that a man has not only passed such an examination, but has also gone through a regular university training, than a paste diamond is to the gem it simulates.

If, however, there be people ambitious to obtain a certificate of their competency to pass a B.A. examination, by all means let them have it; let them, too, if they desire it, have the privilege of writing some capital letters after their names; but do not give them Degrees in Arts. Remember, too, that a young university in a young country will not bear tampering with, and that in attempting to make degrees more accessible you may render them valueless.

NEMO.

THE STRAW NECKED IBIS.—A fine specimen of the straw-necked ibis, lately taken at Venus Bay, was sent to us by a gentleman residing there, with a request that we would place it at the disposal of the curator of the Museum, by whom it has been accepted with thanks. We find that the bird is common in many parts of the colony, especially on some parts of the Murray. We subjoin a short description, extracted from Gould's "Birds of Australia:"—"Geronticus spinicollis (Straw-necked Ibis).—This beautiful ibis has never yet been discovered out of Australia, over the whole of which immense country it is probably distributed, as it is more abundant in certain localities at one season than at another; its presence, in fact, appears to depend upon whether the season be or be not favourable to the increase of the lower animals, upon which the vast hordes of this bird feed. After the severe drought of 1839 it was in such abundance on the Liverpool Plains and on those of the Lower Namoi that to compute the number in a single flock was impossible. It was also very numerous on the sea-side of the great Liverpool range, inhabiting the open downs and flats, particularly such as were studded with shallow lagoons, through which it would wade knee-high in search of shelled molluscs, frogs, and insects. Independently of the food I have mentioned it feeds on grasshoppers and insects generally. The natives informed me that sometimes many seasons elapse without the bird being seen. Where, then, does it go? To what country does it pass? Does there not exist a vast oasis in the centre of Australia to which the bird migrates when it is not found in the located parts of the country? We may reasonably suppose such to be the case."—S. A. Register.

FAT CATTLE.—Mr. Joseph Windred slaughtered early in the week a heifer from the herd of Mr. Andrew Kerr, fattened on the Bogan—that weighed nearly eight cwt.

COMMERCIAL.

STOCK AND SHARE CIRCULARS.

W. BARTON.—This has been again a quiet week in the share market. There is very little alteration in prices. Bank shares and Pacific Insurance shares are in request at a trifling advance. A prospectus of a new mining company to be called The Currawang Copper Mining Company has been issued. The capital is to be £50,000 in shares of £1 each. 30,000 shares to be considered fully paid, are reserved to the proprietors, and 40,000 are offered to the public, and are to be paid for in calls of 2s 6d each at intervals at not less than two months. My sales consist of—New South Wales Bank shares, at £41 10s to £42; Commercial ditto, £50 10s; City ditto, £10 10s; Pacific Insurance ditto, £4.—August 11.

LENNON AND CAPE.—We have had another very quiet week in our share market. Bank stocks are in demand, but they are not offering at buyer's limits. In Insurance shares we note sales of Pacifics at £4. In Steam shares, the only sale has been in Hunter River New Steam. In Mining stocks nothing is doing. The prospectus of the Currawang Copper Mining Company is before the public; the news from the mine continues encouraging. Our sales this week have been in—Australian Joint Stock Bank, £14 10s; ditto ditto, £3 paid, £5; Bank of New South Wales, £41 5s to £41 10s; Hunter River New Steam, £12 10s; City Bank, £10 7s 6d.—August 11th.

J. MULLENS.—The share market continues in the same state, the demand for bank shares being active, with an upward tendency. I have sold Commercial Bank shares at £1 advance, and report Bank of New South Wales shares scarce, and wanted at £41 10s. Pacific Insurance shares have been very saleable at quotations. There have been no sales since the notice of an increase of the company's capital. My sales this week have been:—Australian Joint Stock Bank shares, £14 10s; City Bank shares, at £10 10s; Commercial Bank shares, at £51 10s; Sydney Insurance shares, at £3 5s; Pacific Insurance shares at £4; New South Wales Government Debentures, Interminable, at 92 and interest.—August 11.

W. CHATFIELD.—There has been more activity in the share market during the week, transactions chiefly in bank stock. Bank of New South Wales shares are scarce; business done at £41 10s. Commercials, in demand, but not in the market; a fair parcel is reported to have been sold through private hands at a high rate. Joint Stock Bank shares are asked for at £14 10s. City Bank stock is not so firm; I have placed fair parcels at £10 7s 6d. In steam there has been no business done. Inquiries have been made for Illawarra Steam and Clarence and Richmond Steam, at prices holders will not accept. In Insurance, a few transfers have been effected. Pacifics' at £4, at which price they are now in demand. Sydney Insurance, at £2 5s, at which they are firm. New South Wales Marine, at £4. Uniteds are offering at £1 10s. In Mining Stock little has been done, the prospectus of the Currawang Mine is now before the public. In debentures I have had no transactions.—August 11.

PRODUCE, STOCK, AND STATION CIRCULARS.

MORT AND CO.—The catalogues for yesterday's sales consisted of odd bales of locks, pieces, and mixed wools, with a few bales of scoured and fleece. The quantity catalogued in all amounted only to about 60 bales. The market was very dull, and for the kinds offering sales are very difficult. We have to-day received, by telegram, news of the May and June sales, which are of a much more pleasing character than previous advices had led us to expect. Notwithstanding the unusually large quantity catalogued, the sales were most satisfactory, full prices maintained, and Sydney recovered 1d per lb. Continental buyers had operated largely, giving confidence to the market, and prices are expected to be maintained throughout the year. Sheepskins keep up their prices. We quitted about 6000 at from 6d to 7½d. Tallow.—The sales to-day show an advance of from £1 10s to £2 on last week's quotations. The rise has been caused by orders from Chili, which created a brisk competition, with buyers for the neighbouring colonies with the above result. At present rates, buyers for the English market are shut out. We quoted 94 casks; quotations as follows: Mutton, £35; best beef, £32 10s to £33 15s; medium quality beef, £30 10s to £32. Hides were again difficult of sale. Inferior to dry and medium, from 5s 9d to 8s; fair to good, 10s to 14s. Bones: Inferior and mixed, £2 5s to £3 15s; good fresh shanks, £8 to £8 10s. Horns: 8s to 14s per 100. Leather: We sold a large parcel from the country to-day at following rates: Sole, 8d per lb.; calf, 2s 8d per lb.; yearlings, 1s 6½d; harness, 9½d. Prime parcels would command an advance on these prices. Produce Sale.—Wool, mixed, DJMC, 1 bale at 6d; ditto, SS, 1 at 5½d; handwashed, MT&Co., 5 at 12d; scoured, J (2 firsts, 1 first and second), 3 at 19½d; mixed, 1 WR, 1 at 8½d; clippings, JH over Namoi, 1 at 3d; scoured, J (4 first, 1 second), 5 at 19½d; fleece, H, 1 at 11d; scoured, JHA in diamond, 2 at 19½d; ditto, GC, 3 at 17½d; scoured pieces, ditto, 1 at 10½d; handwashed, JHA in oblong, 1 at 8½d; ditto, G in diamond, 3 at 9d; pieces, ditto, 1 at 7½d. Sheepskins: 2 lots at 6½d; SD, 1 at 6½d; 10 bundles at 7½d, 1 lot at 6d, 1 at 6½d; JM, 1 at 6d; WR, 3 bundles at 7d; EB, 2 at 7½d; G in diamond, 1 at 7d. Tallow: P, 1 cask at £30 10s; 3 at £31 10s, 2 at £31 5s; SD, 6 at £32; T in triangle, 10 at £32; WR, 8 at £32 5s; JB, 18 at £32; JDM, 1 at £31; G in diamond, 2 at £31 10s; JM, 12 at £30 17s 6d; EB, 5 at £32 10s; 1 hide at £30 5s; 6 casks at £32 12s 6d; DMC, 4 at £32 2s 6d; 4 at £32, 2 at £31 15s; C, 1 at £30 10s; 1 at £31 5s; J, 2 at £32 12s 6d. Hides: DMC, 20 hides at 11s; A&WB, 40 at 5s 6d; WR, 3 at 5s 3d; WR, 36 at 14s; T in triangle, 38 at 14s; 3 calfskins at 3s; JM in diamond, 61 hides at 10s; JE, 78 at 9s; 2 at 7s 9d, 6 at 3s. Leather: Sole 8d, harness 9½d, yearlings 1s 6½d, calfskins 2s 8d.—August 11th.

LAWRENCE AND TURNER.—Wool: the market continues depressed, buyers not caring to operate on the lots offering, which consist principally of fellmongered parcels. The mail telegram to hand this day (if to be relied on) affords a better prospect for the opening of the ensuing season than could have been anticipated from the result of the early sales of the present year. Our sale of yesterday resulted as follows:—Greasy, RF, 1 bale at 5½d; mixed, AJL, 1 at 4½d; locks, JBR, 1 at 3½d; scoured, diamond, 1 at 14½d; mixed, ditto, 1 at 4½d; scoured, K&W in diamond, 1 at 12½d; greasy, DMD, 2 at 7½d; mixed, H in circle, 1 at 4½d per lb. Sheepskins remain about the same as when last reported. We sold about 3000 thus: JBR, 1 bundle at 6d; RE, 1 ditto at 4d; AB, 10 ditto at 6½d; WB, 1 lot 1½d; JWB, 2 bales at 4½d; C, 2 ditto at 7d; Q, 5 bundles at 7½d per lb. Tallow. This market is very firm, and an advance of about 20s has been established at the sales of this day. 23 casks of station were placed at the following quotations:—3 casks at 32s; G, 2 at 32s 9d; JGH, 3 at 33s 6d; FB&Co., 5 at 33s 6d, 1 at 32s 9d; JE, 9 at 33s; CXH, 4 at 33s per cwt. Hides: There is little doing in this class of produce; buyers are holding off pending the arrival of the mail. Of about 700 offered to-day, only two small lots were sold, the remainder were withdrawn.—August 11.

O. B. ENSWORTH.—Wool: There have been really no transactions in this market to call forth any comment this week, and prices are reported quite nominal. Sheepskins: Prices about the same as last week, but no great desire on the part of fellmongers to stock themselves. Tallow: The arrivals this week have not been equal to the demand; and as buyers both for home consumption and the other colonies were in the market, prices advanced fully 20s to 30s per ton, and prime parcels nearly £2. Some very prime beef brought £33 15s per ton. These prices cannot be reckoned upon when this market is better supplied. Hides: The telegram announcing the arrival of the mail at Adelaide caused purchasers to abstain from operating, and the bulk of those catalogued was withdrawn until the letters are delivered.—August 11th.

THOMAS DAWSON.—Fat Cattle: This market is not so firm as last reported, consequent on the increased supply, and the number known to be close at hand. I look on this, however, as only temporary, as the demand for shipment to other colonies is as brisk as ever. Prime pens of bullocks may be quoted at £7, lower qualities in proportion. Fat Sheep: The arrivals have been large, but principally of inferior quality, scarcely any really good sheep have been offering. It is worthy of remark that from some cause or other for which I cannot account, the sheep which this year have left well-known first-class stations, fat and healthy, have nearly all arrived here in poor condition. Really good flocks would bring 15s to 16s. I sold this week 2056 of Dangar's at 14s, and 2240 of Codrington's (inferior) at 11s. Store Sheep and Cattle: Both are in good demand, but I do not anticipate much business being done until the recent rains have caused the feed to become more plentiful on the borders. Horses: There are not many offering. Those of useful stamp bring satisfactory rates. Stations: I have several inquiries for both sheep and cattle runs, more particularly to the westward, lightly stocked ones preferred.—August 11th.

MR. BREWSTER.—Stations: There are buyers in the market for good Southern, Western, or Liverpool Plains stations, but second class runs are entirely neglected, buyers declining to operate even at very reduced prices. Store Cattle: Choice well-bred mobs are inquired for; rough lots are in little or no demand. Store Sheep: Young ewes and good store wethers are very saleable; of the former there are very few offering.—August 11th.

SYDNEY LABOUR MARKET.

W. EDWARDS.—Notwithstanding the wet weather prevalent during the week, the demand for servants (especially farming men) is tolerably good. Rates of wages are fully maintained, in accordance with late report.—11th August.

DENILIQUIN STOCK REPORT.

Friday evening, August 4.

THE favourable weather continuing, buyers of store stock exhibit increased confidence, though still there are many defer purchasing in the absence of water in their back country. The rains have been very partial; whilst in some places a good supply has been retained in the dams, in others no water has been collected, but sufficient has fallen to bring on the grass nicely. A heavy shower fell this week here, and excepting this the weather has been fine with moderate nights. The lambing is generally better than was anticipated, and where attention has been paid the results have fully justified the expense. The Darling squatters are generally well satisfied, but on the Lower Murray losses have been heavy. Mildure and Kulkyne are, however, happy exceptions. On those stations the owners had not to depend on their frontages, having at considerable expense provided water on the back. Their average is 80 per cent. That fear of pleuro-pneumonia being contagious no longer exists may be gathered from the fact of Mr. Oswald Bloxham's store cattle, 1150, which are undoubtedly diseased, having been purchased by Messrs. Hope and Scott, of Toogimbie, at £2 12s 6d, delivered. They are about Wanganella, and go down the Billabong to the Murrumbidgee. Mr. Mann (Messrs. Dalmahoy Campbell and Co.) effected the transaction. Mr. Caple's store cattle, 2200, bought from Mr. Sullivan, crossed the old bridge on the 1st instant. We hear they followed the lead of a quiet milch cow without trouble. Mr. Bartholomew's mob of store cattle were sold on the road, and Mr. Clement's and Mr. O'Brien's mobs were expected at Wagga this week. Messrs. Bowen and Jones have sold 400 store to Mr. M'Bean. Fat cattle continue scarce, one mob only, a draft from Corree, 150, Mr. Keighran's having crossed during the week. We hear, however, that there are upwards of 2000 in different mobs now within fifty miles of Sandhurst. A mob from the Lachlan are approaching, and Messrs. Brown and Johnstone's 80 head, were expected at Wagga Wagga this week. On the 1st instant, 300, Mr. Rand's, in charge of Mr. Martin, crossed at Mulwala. The Darling fat cattle are now picked up by the Adelaide dealers, who are in strong force on that river. Messrs. Learmonth's fat wethers, 2000, passed over yesterday. Mr. Robb (Powers, Rutherford, and Co.), reports the sale of 2000 fat sheep on the station, Mr. Fairbairn's, to Mr. Horne. Mr. Allcorn's fat wethers, 1500, have gone to Beechworth; he refused 14s 6d and 15s for them at Wagga. Messrs. F. A. Thompson and Co. report sale of 2100 store wethers, Messrs. Patterson, Brothers, to Messrs. Lavender and Wilkinson. Mr. George Forsyth has sold 3000 store wethers, in the Maneroo district, at 10s 6d, usual terms. 7000 sheep, chiefly ewes, from the North West Bend, South Australia, crossed at Wentworth last week. Their condition is reported capital, considering the bare pastures they have come through. They are bound for Deniliquin. Mr. Keighran had with him 50 vealers. Mr. Orr's store cattle, 1500; and Mr. Steele's 500 have arrived.—Pastoral Times.

HUMAN REMAINS FOUND.—The Deniliquin Chronicle of the 5th instant, says:—A discovery of the bones of a human skeleton was recently made in the mallee scrub, sixteen miles from Euston. No clothing was found, nor anything leading to the identification of the deceased, neither were there any marks of violence presented by the remains. They are, however, supposed to be those of a white man.

THE WENTWORTH.—More animation exists at this gold-field than has existed for some time. The lower levels having been flooded for some time, the energies of the miners have been all directed to the working of the upper levels, and, in nearly all cases, have the results proved far beyond previous anticipation. The Uncle Tom party struck splendid wash-dirt, only fifteen feet from the surface, of a quality which is likely to prove far superior to any yield ever obtained from the claim before. As a result to this wonderful improvement in the condition of the field, the state of things [illegible]

There is still very little business doing in the share market. Bank shares continue in request, and prices rule higher. The news from England of money being much easier, and the low rate of discount, will probably cause a better demand for those securities which are paying large dividends. The fluctuations that have taken place this week are as follows:—Bank of New South Wales shares are firm, and have improved 10s. per share. Commercial Bank shares are scarce, and have changed hands at an advance of 20s. per share. In steam shares the only sale has been in Hunter River New Steam Navigation shares, at last price. Insurance shares are rather firmer. Pacific are inquired for, and as a meeting has been called for the purpose of increasing their capital, holders are not now disposed to sell except at an advance on last quotation. Sydney Insurance shares are steady. New South Wales Marine Assurance shares have improved 5s. per share. The following are the prices at which sales have been made during the week:—Bank of New South Wales, £41 8s., £41 10s., and £42 per share: Commercial Bank, £50 10s. and £51 10s. per share: Australian Joint-Stock Bank, £14 10s. per share,—new shares, £5 per share; City Bank, £10 7s. 6d. and £10 10s. per share: Hunter River New Steam Navigation Company, £12 10s. per share; Sydney Fire and Marine Insurance Company, £2 5s. per share: New South Wales Marine Assurance Company, £4 per share; Pacific Fire and Marine Insurance Company, £4 per share.

DEBENTURES.—In Government Debentures a small sale of Interminables is reported at 92. We observe that the Government have called for tenders for £50,000 Terminable Debentures, payable on 31st of December, 1868. As short dated Debentures are quoted at 100 to 102 in London, these Debentures will doubtless be sought after for remittance in preference to bills on London at 60 days' sight at 1½ per cent. premium. The principal and interest are payable in London or Sydney, at the option of the holder, and applications will be received at the Treasury until noon of Thursday, the 17th instant.

The following table will show the closing prices of our securities, as well as the prices at which sales have been made during the week:—

A prospectus has been issued of a new gold company, called the Glanmire Gold Mining Company. The capital is £40,000, in 20,000 shares of £2 each. The company is formed for the purchase and working of the mineral lands on the Glanmire Estate. The purchase money is £27,000, of which £16,000 is to be paid in cash, and the balance in 5500 paid-up shares, and this will leave a working capital of £13,000, which it is believed will be ample for all purposes. The proprietors of the estate agree not to receive any dividend on their paid-up shares until the other shareholders shall be in receipt of a dividend of 10 per cent. per annum. 10s. per share is to be paid on allotment; 10s. per share in one month, and 10s. per share in three months from date of the second instalment, and the balance as may be notified by the board. The shares are to be allotted pro rata, and applications will be received until the 31st instant.

In general business there is not much movement to notice, and the fluctuations in prices have been confined to a few articles of daily consumption.

and stocks decreasing. Adelaide first brands are quoted at £21 to £22; Chilian, £19 to £20. Wheat is also firmer; Adelaide, 9s. 9d. to 10s.; Chilian, 9s.

LIQUIDS.—Ale in bulk is dull of sale, and prices have given way 5s. to 10s. per hogshead; first brands, £7 to £7 5s. Porter, in bulk, is scarce, and sales have taken place at £7 15s. Bottled ale and porter are dull of sale, and to effect large sales lower rates have to be submitted to. Brandy is rather firmer, Martell's 7s. 9d. to 8s. Rum is in better request, and as stocks are small and higher prices ruling in London, an improvement is expected. 30 o.p. 3s. 5d. to 3s. 6d. Geneva is steady at 10s. 6d. for first brands of low strengths and small quantities.

TEAS are very firm, and fine teas have an upward tendency. Low congous are quoted at £5 15s. to £6 5s. Medium £6 15s. to £7 15s. Good, £8 to £9; and very fine, £10 to £12 per chest.

SUGARS are unaltered. A telegram has been received from Melbourne stating that an advance has taken place, but the market here has not yet been affected by it. Mauritius sugars are quoted as follows:—Ration, £29 to £33; counters, £37 to £39; crystals, £41 to £43 10s.

RICE is not much inquired for. New Patna, £20 10s. to £21 per ton.

IN CANDLES, SALT, and OILMEN'S STORES, there has not been much doing, and prices rule about the same as last week.

TALLOW.—The tallow market was much firmer today, and prices show an improvement of 30s. to 40s. per ton. The cause of this sudden rise was owing to orders for Chili being executed, and the demand for the neighbouring colonies. About 190 casks were offered to-day, and sold at from £30 10s. to £33 15s. for beef, and £35 for mutton.

HIDES were very dull of sale, and most of the lots offered were passed. Over 1700 were catalogued, but only about 600 were sold, at from 5s. 9d. to 14s. each.

The following was the result of the sales:—

Messrs. Mort and Co. sold to-day, by auction, 91 casks tallow, at the following prices:—Best beef, £32 10s. to £33 15s.; Medium, £30 10s. to £32; Mutton, £35; Hides—about 750 were catalogued and 380 sold, at 5s. 9d. to 14s. each.

Messrs. Irwin and Turner sold to-day, by auction, 23 casks of tallow, at 33s. and 33s. 6d. per cwt. Hides; over 570 were catalogued, but only two small lots were sold, at 8s. 3d. to 8s. 3d. each. Calfskins, 1s. 11d. each.

Mr. James Graham sold to-day, by auction, 72 casks of tallow, at £31 10s. to £33 15s., for beef, and £35 for mutton. Hides—about 400 were catalogued, and 180 sold, at 5s. 9d. to 12s. 3d. each. Calfskins, 3s. 9d. each. Shankbones, £8 15s. per ton.

Messrs. L. E. Threlkeld and Co. have held some extensive sales this week, viz., on Wednesday, a shipment of boots and shoes ex Nineveh; women's and children's goods realised an advance on invoice, and men's goods about former prices. On the afternoon of same day, they sold the cargo of Hobart Town timber ex Malcolm, as follows: staves, 4s., 5-foot palings, 9s. 9d., 6-foot, 13s., shingles, 11s. per 100; battens, 9s. 3d., timber, 10s. per 100 feet; boards, 11s. On Thursday, the same firm sold the goods saved from the fire on the premises of Messrs. J. Frazer and Co., York and Barrack streets. The sale attracted a very large attendance of buyers, and many of the lots brought extreme prices. In the afternoon, they sold on Grafton Wharf the damaged portion of the cargo of flour, ex Meteor, from Valparaiso, at £18 2s 6d per ton; also, on Wright's Wharf, the cargo of Kauri pine, ex Harriet Armitage, at 13s per 100 feet. On Friday Messrs. L. E. Threlkeld and Co. sold at Moore's Wharf about 100 tons sugar, ex Melrose, from Mauritius, all more or less damaged, at from £21 10s to £37 15s per ton, duty paid, according to condition and quality; and in the afternoon, at the Waterloo Warehouse, the slightly damaged portion of the goods from the stock of Messrs. John Frazer and Co.

By the branch steamer Rangatira, which arrived at Adelaide this morning with the English mail per Northam, we have news from England to the 28th of June. The following is the substance of our commercial intelligence:—The money market is much easier, and the Bank of England has reduced the rate of discount one per cent.—the rate being 3 per cent. Good bills, at short dates, however, are discounted at 2½ to 3 per cent. The English funds have improved one-quarter per cent. on the previous month's quotations. Consols are quoted at 89⅞ to 89⅞ for money and 89⅞ to 89⅞ for the account. New South Wales Government debentures are unaltered; terminables, due in 1866, 100 to 102. Victorian Government debentures have improved in value and are quoted at 109½ to 111½.

The New Zealand Banking Company have declared a dividend of 10 per cent. per annum, and the South Australian Banking Company a dividend of 10 per cent. per annum.

The Board of Trade returns for the month of April show a decrease of 9 per cent. on the corresponding month of last year.

Some heavy failures are reported as having taken place, the principal being Bragenton, Kennington, and Co., private bankers, of Torrington, with liabilities to the amount of £100,000; Levick and Co., iron merchants, liabilities, £400,000; Corliffe and Pigot, of Blackburn, and Messrs. Brassell, of Horwick, liabilities not stated. Other failures in the iron trade are also expected.

The exports to Sydney from the United Kingdom for the month amount to £360,361 against £269,159 for the previous month, which is an increase of £91,000.

It is satisfactory to find that the wool report is of a more encouraging character. 168,000 bales were offered at the last sales, and sales closed at full rates. The continental buyers bought largely, and this tended to strengthen prices, which are expected to be maintained throughout the year. Sheepskins have met with a ready sale at 6¾d. to 1s. 8d. per lb.

TALLOW.—The market is firmer, and prices have improved 3d. to 6d. per cwt. Australian fine mutton sold at 41s. 6d., beef 39s. to 40s., P. Y. C. 40s.

HIDES are again reported lower and with a quiet market. In leather there has been a steady business at former prices.

BARK.—Mimosa is 5s. to 10s. lower, owing to large importations.

OILS.—Linseed is quoted at 33s. 6d. Rape is dearer. A good business has been done in cocoanut at former prices. Palm and olive oil are dearer.

METALS.—Copper is very dull, and prices nominal; Burra Burra, £90 to £92. Tin and pig iron have improved in value.

SUGAR.—The market is unsteady; low kinds for refining have advanced 1s.; but best qualities are not in demand. Stock on hand 10,000 tons more than last year.

SPIRITS.—Rum is in demand, and has improved 2d. per gallon. Brandy and wines are without alteration.

RICE is firm. Fine Patna, 18s. to 21s.

COFFEE has improved 1s. 6d. to 2s.

CORN.—An abundant harvest is expected; but good prices are now realised.

THE INDIAN MATRIMONIAL MARKET.—The chief periodical outdoor show at Calcutta is the arrival of a home steamer in the cold weather, when a cargo of maidens for the matrimonial market is always brought out. Upon these days bachelors who are "shivering on the brink" of the other state, and are tired of the loneliness of an Indian station, go down to the "P. and O." wharf, at Garden Reach, and inspect the new English faces,—sometimes very pretty faces, but oftener bearing such marks of home wear as prove that the East is not tried until the chances elsewhere are rather bad. The picture is an odd one. Each "battery" of fair ones is under the charge of an experienced matron, who answers for their conduct up to that point. As they land, they try to look utterly unconscious of their mission, and of the fact that they are open to an eligible offer within ten minutes after their arrival. Marriage is usually rapid work in India, but the last two cold seasons are said to have been so bad that it would be an act of good nature on our part to discourage further shipments at present. The fact is that India does not enhance female charms. The plump, round lithe figure soon becomes sharp, angular and stiff. Mosquitoes and Bengalee servants are not good for the temper, and as there is no opera to go to, and nothing particular to talk about, it would be strange if the female nature did not sometimes get a little soured and very stupid. Yet it is in India that the true courage, self-denial, and affection of a good woman are constantly being shown—only that such women were never overland consignments to the market. It is a bad time for these fair adventurers now, however fair they may be; and as for those who have lost their bloom, they had better content themselves with teaching dirty little boys at home, for the days of promise for them are over.—Times of India.

EXTRAORDINARY RAILWAY ADVENTURE.—A night or two back the officials of the Hull section of the North-Eastern Railway were subjected to a considerable, and, as it ended, rather amusing cause of alarm. It appeared that a gentleman was returning from York to Selby by the night mail, and was the only occupant of a first-class compartment. On arriving at the latter place inquiry was made "if for Hull," and the reply received from the half-asleep gentleman was understood to mean "Yes" and he was accordingly shut up and allowed to doze off again; and the order "Hull" was given, there being no intermediate stoppages. Close by the Selby station a long iron bridge crosses the Ouse, and trains in passing over produce a very loud noise. This well-known rumbling thoroughly awoke the sleeping gentleman, who finding himself crossing Selby bridge, at once opened the door and leaped out of the carriage down a steep embankment on the Hull side of the river, fortunately for him before the train had acquired its express speed after leaving Selby. On arrival at Hull the door of the first-class carriage was found wide open. On inquiry the guard ascertained that all were shut when leaving Selby, and moreover that in that very carriage there was a gentleman asleep. Fears of murder a la Muller, or of suicide, were at once conjured up, and the strange affair was communicated to the district manager at Hull, who hastily dressed and sent off for a company's surgeon, and at once ordered a special train, &c. On this special, which travelled at a very slow pace, several men held lamps, so as to throw a glare on the down line, on which the body of the missing gentleman was expected to be found. After a very careful examination the special train arrived at Selby, where the searchers learnt from the night man on the bridge that the gentleman who had leapt from the carriage had passed safely over the bridge shortly before midnight, and had doubtless been some hours in bed. The gentleman has apologised for having caused the officials so bootless a journey.—European Times, May 11.

Returning thanks for past favours, I respectfully solicit an early call.

AMERICA.

New York, 14th June.

The news is of a painful character. The accounts from all parts of the South depict condition of deep distress. There was a scarcity of provisions Disorganisation and illness prevails among the negroes; poverty and disappointment among the whites.

On the 10th a party of 200 whites attacked a settlement of negroes in Washington, drove them from their homes, beat them, destroyed their furniture, and appropriated whatever of value could be found. The negroes subsequently rallied, when a fight ensued, in which firearms were used on both sides, and several persons were injured. The riot was only quelled by military force. Expulsion and beating of negroes is of daily occurrence in New York and Philadelphia.

An opinion has been given by Attorney-General Speed to the effect that parolled prisoners of war are not exempt from indictment for prosecution by the Civil Courts for their acts during war. He declares General John Morgan's men subject to arrest and trial for robbery in Kentucky, and that the Federal Government ought not to interfere with the execution of such process.

Mr. Davis is still confined in Fortress Monroe, but there is a report that General Breckenridge escaped to Cuba.

The Grand Jury of Norfolk has brought an indictment of treason against Generals Lee and Longstreet, Governor Smith Letcher, and 400 others.

An explosion occurred on the 9th June at the Government Ordnance Repository, Chattanooga, containing several thousand tons of ammunition. Shells flew about in all directions, and, exploding, killed many persons and set fire to the building. The estimated loss is four million dollars. This explosion occurred almost simultaneously with a dreadful conflagration at Nashville, and at Galatin, which leads to the suspicion of incendiarism. The recent explosion in Mobile, in which several lives were lost, and immense property destroyed, is believed to have originated with torpedos, several having since been discovered in the Custom House of that city, adjusted to explode upon the opening of the doors, or secreted in desks or piles of rubbish.

The trial of the conspirators is still proceeding; the witnesses for the defence are in course of examination. No new or startling development has taken place.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald writes as follows:—"A formal demand has been made on the British Government for the surrender of the rebel ram Stonewall. It is not the intention of our Government to abandon or abate the demand on England for damage upon our commerce by rebel pirates. Enough of our army will be retained to enforce any demand upon foreign Governments. It is understood that preliminary measures have already been taken to enforce the Monroe doctrine, and notification has been sent to Napoleon that he must not only send no more troops to Mexico, but must withdraw those he has there, and leave the people of Mexico to decide for themselves which they will have—a Republic or an Empire."

General Kirby Smith surrendered; but the Federal Government, nevertheless, sent troops into Texas, it is thought, with a view to interference with Mexico.

The negroes in the South are likely to give great trouble, and have excited so much bad feeling in the North that in some places they are harshly treated. In the South they demand the franchise; in Kentucky the whites refuse to employ them, and they have appealed to the President. The following is a description of their conduct, which appeared in a journal of New York on the 10th:—"The condition of freed men in the South is said to be far from what their friends desire. They are flocking to cities and large towns in such numbers that employment even for those seeking work cannot be secured, while from the same cause labour in the agricultural districts is becoming scarce. The negroes hang about military camps; a fact which called forth from military commanders a number of orders requesting the blacks to work, and refusing to issue them rations to be eaten in idleness; in some sections negroes are perpetrating gross outrages by organised bands."

In South Carolina the people are in fear of a general insurrection among the blacks; isolated plantations without military guards were in many cases abandoned. Vigorous retrenchment is progressing in the national expenditure; a large number of naval vessels are announced to be sold. The number retained in commission is to be reduced to actual requirement. Most of the iron clads are to be laid up out of commission in the Delaware river. The home squadron is to consist of 150 vessels.

Public opinion in the North is strongly in favour of putting down the Mexican Monarchy, and on insisting upon demands made upon England respecting the Alabama.

FRANCE.

It is rumoured that Government propose sending 10,000 troops to Mexico, to crush Juarez; but it is reported that Seward sent a despatch to the French Government that the United States cannot recognize the Emperor Maximilian, either now or in future; also declaring that the Monroe doctrine will be adopted as the foreign policy by the Washington Government.

The French and English ironclad fleets are to visit the coasts of both countries, then to assemble at Plymouth, at the suggestion of Napoleon.

ROME.

A complete rupture is reported between the Pope and the Emperor of Mexico on ecclesiastical matters.

The Pope refuses to require Bishops to take the oath of allegiance to the King of Italy, and negociations have taken place between both Governments, without result.

SPAIN.

Marshall O'Donnell, the new Minister, intimated that Government decided for recognising the kingdom of Italy, and for the preservation of amicable relations with foreign Powers. Also a general amnesty for offences against Press laws.

GERMANY.

The Prussian Chamber was closed by the King in a speech from the throne; his Majesty severely criticised the conduct of the Lower House, expressing his determination to rule the country without the aid of Parliament.

AUSTRIA.

Austria refuses to accede to inordinate demands of Prussia on the affairs of the Duchies, thus complicating the arrangements between both countries.

RUSSIA.

Serious checks have been suffered by the Russians in Central Asia.

CHINA.

HONG KONG, 29th June.—The rebellion is raging in North China, and rapidly assuming formidable dimensions, the rebels having approached within 100 miles of the metropolis. The available disciplined troops near Shanghai were sent for, and four steamers have been chartered from foreign firms to convey garrisons to Tien Tsein, also two sailing vessels. The force amounts to 7000 men.

Nothing of importance from Japan or other ports.

Exchange—London, bank bills, 4s. 5½d.; private paper, 4s. 6d., on Calcutta 217 rupees, Bombay 216½. Freights, London, £2.

SHANGHAI, 21st June.—Exchange: London, Bank bills, 6s. 3d.: private paper, 6s. 3½d.; on Bombay 306 rupees, Calcutta 305 ditto. Freights, London, £3.

INDIA.

During the past month several joint stock companies, and European and native firms, have failed with enormous liabilities.

A great battle was fought between the Ameer of Cabul and Candahar Saudars, in which the heir apparent was killed. The ruler of Khokima has been killed, and his country made over to the Khan of Bokhara.

108 people were killed by an avalanche in Juangi, on the Upper Chenab.

The Governer-General issued orders that the export duties on sugar, coffee, teas, pickles, wool, hides, and silk should cease; and the duty on rice and other grain is reduced to two annas per maund.

The heat at Calcutta is intense, and cholera prevails in a great number of provinces, and many Europeans have fallen from its effects; at Cairo and Aden it also rages.

Famine prevails in Arabia. A requisition has been sent from the authorities of Aden to the Government at Bombay to send a shipload of wheat promptly to relieve the distressed.

FREIGHTS.—Bombay to Liverpool: Cotton, 25s.; seeds, 7s. 6d.; to London: Cotton, nil; seeds, 12s. 6d. to 15s. Exchange on London, six months' sight, 1s. 11⅞d.

Freights at Calcutta improving. Seeds, £2 17s. 6d. Light freight, £2 5s. to Mauritius. 11 annas for rice to Colombo. Exchange on London, six months, first-class credits, 2s. 0¼d. to ⅜.

CEYLON.—Freights to London: Coffee casks, £2; bags, 25s.; oil, £1. Exchange on London, six months' slight, nominal.

COMMERCIAL.

The Bank of England reduced the rate of discount on 15th June to 3 per cent., and the charge for good bills of short dates is now 2¾ to 3 per cent. The fall in the value of money not yet ceased.

There is not any important revival of trade with America as expected. The uncertain condition of trade in India, and fear of further failures, creates great caution in mercantile transactions.

Consols for money, 89½ to 89⅝; ditto for account, July 6th, 89⅝ to 89¾.

COLONIAL GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.—New South Wales: 5 per cent., 1866, January and July, 100 to 102. Victoria: 6's, April and October, 109½ to 111½. South Australia ditto, 1878, 107 to 109. Queensland ditto: January and July, 105, half to 106½. New Zealand: 6's, 104 to 106; ditto 5's, 87 to 90.

Great fluctuations have taken place in Bank shares, owing to recent heavy failures.

The New Zealand Banking Company declared a dividend of 10 per cent. per annum.

The annual meeting of the proprietors of the Union Bank of Australia is convened for 10th July.

The dividend of the South Australian Banking Company has been declared at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum.

The Board of Trade returns for April shew a decrease of 9 per cent. with corresponding month last year.

The chairman laid on the table accounts amounting to 16s 6d. Ordered to be referred to the finance committee. This terminated the business of the meeting, and the council rose.

THE HORSE.—The celebrated author of "Nimrod on Condition asserts that he never had in his possession a horse that ever suffered from worms, went blind, or broken-winded; neither experienced lameness from thrushes, cracked heels, farcy, or humours; which he attributes mostly to the giving of such alterative or physic medicine every two months as to excite a sufficient discharge by the skin, bowels, or kidneys, and thereby produce a regularity in the system. To meet this desired object, no more prudent medicine can be given than GIBTON'S WORM and CONDITION POWDERS, as a safe and certain remedy for destroying all species of worm, and removing and keeping back the above diseases. And particularly if given at autumn, and in the spring, they will put the horse in fine condition for the coming season, and give him additional strength and vigour, purify his blood, and add a fine gloss to his coating; and may be administered without making any alteration in either food or labour; and as the horse will take these powders freely, the groom will have but little trouble in giving them.

GLANMIRE GOLD MINING COMPANY (Limited).

Capital, £40,000, in 20,000 Shares of £2 each.

Provisional Directors:
George King, Esq. G. W. Allen, Esq.
J. de V. Lamb, Esq. T. C. Breillat, Esq.
J. L. Montefiore, Esq.

Bankers:
The City Bank, Sydney.
The Commercial Bank, Bathurst.

Solicitor:
G. P. Slade, Esq., 2, Gresham-street, Sydney.

Broker:
J. Mullens, Esq., 133, Pitt-street, Sydney.

This Company is formed for the purchase of the mineral lands of the Glanmire Estate, consisting of 5130 acres, more or less, or about eight square miles, within seven miles of Bathurst, with which it is connected by a good road.

The auriferous nature of the property is well known, and an extensive gold-field is already established. Over three hundred miners are at the present moment working the alluvial deposits, paying to the Proprietors a monthly license fee of one pound each. Several co-operative sluicing companies have also been formed, with prospects of large returns, and a considerable income may be anticipated from this source.

The estate abounds in quartz reefs, which are as yet unexplored, but almost all the stones broken from the surface exhibit traces of gold to a greater or less extent. On reference to the map, it will be seen that the land is contiguous to the Kirkconnell proclaimed gold field, on which, and closely adjacent to Glanmire are the celebrated Napoleon and Fontina reefs, the former being the richest that has yet been discovered in New South Wales. It is proposed to work the company's quartz reefs, or to lease them on tribute, as may seem most desirable.

A leading feature of the property is the existence of about seventy acres of ferruginous conglomerate, throughout which gold is extensively distributed, and whence immediate and enormous profits are anticipated. The gold is distributed throughout the deposit (which is exceedingly friable), in very minute proportions, recoverable only by crushing and amalgamation. The conglomerate known by the miners as "cement," is found in various parts of the estate, in one patch of which, near the junction of the Winburndale and St. Anthony's Creeks, it is proposed to commence operations. The various trials of this cement by the Mint, Professor Watt, and Mr. Farmer, together with the report of the engineer, may be seen at the broker's office.

It is estimated that machinery capable of crushing and amalgamating 500 tons per week can be erected for £4000, and it will be seen on reference to the report of the well-known engineer Mr. Combes, that a produce of five pennyweights to the ton will yield from this source a net weekly income of about £350, and the return from the gravel hills may be calculated at £170 per week net, making a total income by the appliance of simple and not costly machinery, of £27,000 per annum, subject only to the expenses of management.

Apart from the intrinsic value of the land, and consequent sale of many portions of it in allotments and small farms, it is believed that the sources of revenue indicated will return to the shareholders a dividend of not less than 10 per cent. quarterly.

The proprietors of the estate have such confidence in its value that they accept 5500 paid up shares in part payment of the purchase money, and agree, moreover, to waive any claim to dividend thereon until the other shareholders shall be in receipt of a dividend at the rate of ten per cent. per annum.

The estate is freehold and will be conveyed immediately after the formation of the Company. All rents, trade and mining license fees, and other revenues accruing after the 1st September next will be credited to the Company.

The purchase money is £27,000, of which £16,000 will be payable in cash, and the balance in shares, on conditions as above stated. This will leave a working capital of £13,000, which it is believed will be ample for all purposes.

The mode of payment will be as follows:—
Ten shilling per share on allotment.
Ten shillings per share in one month.
Ten shillings per share in three months from date of the second instalment.
And thereafter the balance as may be notified by the Board.

Shares will be allotted PRO RATA on all applications.

The company will be registered under the Act 24 Victoria. No. 21. "To limit the liability of mining partnerships," limiting the liability of shareholders to the amount of their shares only. The Deed of Settlement will be forthwith prepared under the instructions of the provisional directors.

The Provisional Directors will hold office until the first annual meeting, when the whole of them will retire, but will be eligible for re-election.

Reports and assays may be seen at the office of J. Mullens, Esq., 133, Pitt-street, from whom also prospectuses and forms of application may be obtained, and all applications for shares must be sent in to that gentleman on or before the 31st instant.

APPLICATION.

AMALGAMATION BY MR. FARMER, AGENT FOR WHEELER'S PATENT AMALGAMATOR.
(Copy.)

Sydney, July 26th, 1865.

Mr. Montefiore.

Dear Sir,—I have worked the ore sent down from the Glanmire by Mr. Combes with Wheeler's Patent Amalgamator. I worked twenty pounds, which produced 5 66-100ths grains of gold, making 1 oz. 6 dwts. 9 grs. per ton.

Please find enclosed the button of gold produced from the 20 lbs. of ore.

Yours, respectfully,
T. SEELYE FARMER.

Report of Edward Combes, Esq., Government Mining Surveyor.

Glanmire, Bathurst, July 28th, 1865.

My Dear Sir,—With reference to your letter of the 8th instant, I now beg to forward you my report on the GLANMIRE GOLD-FIELDS ESTATE. I should have done this at an earlier period, could I have devoted sufficient time to the requisite examination of the country. I must, however, premise that, while I can with safety speak as to the portion examined, there still remains another portion comparatively unknown, on which I must further report at some future opportunity.

The Glanmire Estate is situated about seven (7) miles north-easterly of the town of Bathurst, and is connected therewith by a good road. It contains 5130 acres of land of fair average quality and well grassed, the greater portion of which is more or less auriferous. Annexed I send a plan made from actual surveys, where it will be seen the field naturally divides itself into two portions—one of which is granite, and the other of a schistose formation. The Winburndale Valley is wholly of the latter character, with quartz reefs showing themselves in every spur; whilst porphoritic and trap, green rocks crop out at intervals. This valley at places breaks out into wide-spreading flats, with fine gullies running back into the ranges. All these are auriferous, and the gold of a coarser and heavier description than that found at St. Anthony's. The Winburndale rivulet is a considerable stream of never failing water, with sufficient fall to be admirably adapted to the construction of water-races or sluicing purposes, or it may be made to supply the motive power for driving a battery of stamps. It is contemplated by a party of men who have formed themselves into a company for this object—to conduct water from the upper part of the Winburndale, by cutting a race somewhat in the direction shown by the dotted line on plan, for working some of the drift hills on the lower portion of the estate, by the process generally known as ground sluicing. I may here mention that these men, whom I have assisted in taking the necessary levels, have repeatedly told me, that from actual prospectings on these drift hills they are confident there is sufficient material to keep twenty sluice-heads in constant operation during a whole lifetime. The country at the lower part of St. Anthony's Creek is granitic, intersected with quartz veins and various metamorphic rocks. The junction of the granite and schist takes place, as nearly as I can judge, in the direction shown in sketch, crossing St. Anthony's about half a mile above the town. The upper part is of a similar character to the Winburndale, and abounds largely in quartz reefs.

The alluvial drift overlying the granite invariably contains gold in greater or lesser quantities, and forms itself into little hills and spurs running out on the flats. Some of these hills are over one hundred and fifty feet above the level of the creek, and the only one opened out at present yields wash-dirt that gives from one ounce to two pennyweights to the load. Between this hill and the town a defined lead has been lately discovered. Three claims have already struck gold heavily, the prospects ranging from five pennyweights nine grains (5 dwts. 9 grs.) to three pennyweights fifteen grains (3 dwts. 15 grs.) to the tin-dish. There is a considerable amount of cemented matter in the hill workings, and in one claim that I particularly noticed, having a depth of twenty-nine feet, there was thirteen feet of stuff that would pay handsomely for washing. On St. Anthony's Creek, between the town and Government Point, three co-operative Sluicing Companies have now commenced work. They intend to operate by means of horses attached to Californian pumps, and from various prospectings are very confident as to the results. The breadth of the valley is in places very extensive, and the presence of auriferous cement, now proved to exist in the wash-dirt, will cause all the "tailings" to be eagerly sought after and crushed, as water cannot dissolve the ferruginous conglomerate, nor can either "cradle" or "long tom" save the fine gold.

A most important matter has lately come to my knowledge, in the discovery of extensive beds of this ferruginous conglomerate—called by the miners "Cement"—containing payable gold. One portion alone situated near, or immediately over the junction of the granite and schist, I should estimate as covering an area of from forty to fifty acres, and varying in thickness from four to eight feet. It also exists in patches over the entire length of St. Anthony's valley, and also a part of the Winburndale. The "over-burden" is composed of black vegetable mould, light loam, and sand, averaging about nine feet in thickness. The cost of raising and trucking to the crushing machine would not exceed 2s. 6d. per ton, and from rough trials made by myself, I apprehend the yield would be at least five pennyweights to the ton. As the Winburndale rivulet adjoins this ground, the engine and stamping works might be erected on the spot.

A twenty-five horse power engine, driving twenty-four stamp-heads, with the necessary machinery for amalgamation, would easily get through five hundred tons per week, while the weekly expenses attendant on such a plant might be roughly approximated as follows:—

2 engineers at £3 per week	£6	0	0
2 stamp men at £2	4	0	0
20 tons of wood at 5s.	5	0	0
Oil, waste, &c.	0	10	0
Wear and tear, at 6d. per ton	12	10	0
Interest, 10 per cent. on £2600	5	0	0
	£33	0	0
Raising and trucking 500 tons at 2s. 6d. ..	62	10	0
Making a total of	£95	10	0

Supposing the cement to go 5 dwts. per ton, we have 125 ozs. of gold, which at £3 14s. 6d. would amount to £465 4s. 6d. Thus leaving a balance on the week's work of £369 14s. 6d. It will readily be seen from this that one pennyweight per ton would nearly cover all expenses. I am confident that works, calculated to reduce five hundred tons of cement weekly, could be erected for a less sum than I mention, and the price per ten for raising is the actual TENDER of a party of men now working on the Gold Field. I have sent you a sample for assay, and I have also sent a parcel to Mr. Hebblewhite for the same purpose. Portions of the cement have also been broken from six different places by Mr. John Busby, manager of the Commercial Bank, Bathurst, and forwarded to the Mint for assay. Each of these was taken from much larger portions and were fair samples.

Of the quartz reefs—with which the place abounds—little is known, as nothing has been done further than breaking a few surface stones. Two claims have been taken up on a reef at the Surface Hill by parties who stated they had seen gold in the stone. I forward per Fox and Co., this day, samples from six different reefs, each weighing about thirty pounds, so that you may be enabled to form an opinion of its auriferous qualities. I have no hesitation in stating that some of the samples are as promising stones as anything I have ever seen. In quantity the reefs appear innumerable, and if we take into consideration the proximity of the well-known Napoleon Reef and Fontana's, which almost border on the Glanmire Estate, we may fairly conjecture that out of this vast number, some will be found highly remunerative.

During the last month, after the first week, about 250 miners were working, while at present there are over 300. They appear well satisfied, and it will be seen the gold returns will steadily increase. The quantity of gold purchased last week was nearly 150 ounces, the greater portion of which was obtained with the primitive appliance of tub and cradle; the washing stuff varying in thickness from two to thirteen feet. After next month, when the preliminaries for sluicing have been arranged, I think the number of diggers will be at no period less than four hundred for the next twenty years. A town, containing two hundred and ten allotments has been surveyed at Saint Anthony's Creek, and a number of the allotments are held by people having BUSINESS LICENSES. The inns and stores are of a permanent description, and prices for provisions and merchandise rule the same as in Bathurst.

A Gold-fields Office, with officers' quarters and stable, have been erected in a substantial manner; also barracks and stable for the police; a senior constable and two men being stationed on the ground.

Before closing my report I would again draw your attention to the subject of cement, as should this material be proved to contain 5 dwts. of gold to the ton, the profits of working would assume gigantic proportions. The cost of getting the material being so small, and the facility of crushing it so great; any company proposing to crush with its own machinery, could not possibly fail to realise good dividends. I think it therefore advisable that you at once give instructions for the withdrawal of that portion of the land from the mining public, and to form a company with sufficient capital to work with the most improved modern machinery on a sufficiently extensive scale.

I am, yours faithfully,
EDWARD COMBES.

J. L. Montefiore, Esq., Sydney.

SECOND REPORT OF EDWARD COMBES, Esq.

Glanmire, via Bathurst, 8th August, 1865.

My dear Sir,—Since writing my last report I have more carefully examined the drift of which the Gravel Hills are formed, and am now clearly of opinion it would be exceedingly remunerative to work it by an extensive system of washing, using machinery constructed on the latest and best principles and working on the face of the hill from top to bottom.

Hills that appear to be of precisely similar character extend nearly the entire length of St. Anthony's Creek, while the portion actually prospected is probably not much over fifteen acres. The drift varies in depth from thirteen to forty feet. Taking the low average of twenty feet, this extent would give about half-a-million of cubic yards, or sufficient to last seven years at the rate of 200 cubic yards per diem.

From the returns by the present system of washing, I should estimate the poorest of the ground to yield one pennyweight of gold to the cubic yard of wash dirt, while portions from the bottom will give from two pennyweights to two ounces.

If we take two hundred cubic yards per day, at the average of one pennyweight per cubic yard, we have ten ounces of gold per day, or sixty ounces per week. This, at £3 12s 6d per ounce, gives £217 10s per week, or £11,310 per annum.

The working expenses would be comparatively low, as in working with "hydraulic hoses" ten men would, under ordinary circumstances be able to break and wash 300 yards per day. We will however say:—

15 men, at £75 per annum	£1125
1 engineer, at £3 per week	156
1 smith, at £3 per week	156
Deterioration of engine, pumps, and washing apparatus	200
624 tons of wood, at 5s	156
Interest on cost of plant, which I estimate at about £2000	200
Making a total of	£1993

and leaving a profit of £9317 per year.

It would be as easy, by extending the operations, to get through double or treble this amount of work, for to all appearance the quantity of wash-dirt is unlimited.

Believe me, yours faithfully,
(Signed) EDWARD COMBES.

J. L. Montefiore, Esq., Sydney.

M'CARROLL, Cumberland-street. —

Two friends met by chance on last Saturday night,—
They were wives of two labouring men,
"Oh dear me," said one, "you are good for the sight;
I've not seen you I do not know when.
And how's all at home? How's your last little girl?
Do bring her one night up to tea;
Our young ones and her would amuse themselves well.
Just tell me now when it shall be."
"I cannot say now, we live so far away;
And, indeed, it is seldom I'm out,
Unless it occurs on my meat buying day—
By our butchers I'm so put about.
We're living almost at the end of a street,
Where we're forced to take what we can get,
And fearful high prices they charge for their meat,
For we've not got M'Carroll there yet.
You cannot imagine the manner they charge
When his shops are so distant away;
Poor people like us, where the family's large,
Their prices we really can't pay.
I must go to M'Carroll although it's a mile,
And sometimes it's pelting with rain;
In walking that distance it takes a good while,
But see how much money I gain.
As true as this moment I'm speaking to you,
Such beautiful meat I get there;
And a shilling with him is just equal to two,
So I always have money to spare."

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions from Messrs. FANNING, GRIFFITHS, and CO., to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, Sydney, on FRIDAY, the 6th of October next, at 11 o'clock,
The above magnificent cattle properties.
LOT 1.—MONDURAN STATION.—This valuable property consists of seven large contiguous blocks or runs, well grassed and watered, embracing an immense area of rich grazing and fattening country, estimated to carry a very large number of stock in all seasons. It is surrounded by well-known properties, including GIN GIN, belonging to Messrs. Wilton and Holt, whilst it also adjoins the property of Messrs. Robertson, Brothers, upon which is erected a first-class for the use of the public.
BOILING-DOWN ESTABLISHMENT
The IMPROVEMENTS are very substantial. They comprise a well-built DWELLING-HOUSE, stable, smithy, and all necessary outhouses, a first-rate stockyard, capable of working a large herd, with every convenience for branding, spaying, &c.; several miles of most substantial fencing has been put up, and other heavy expenses incurred to make this property complete in every respect.
With Monduran will be sold
6500 HEAD OF CATTLE, MORE OR LESS.
A choice well bred herd, no expense or trouble having been spared to keep up the high character of the cattle. There are now a considerable number of fat beasts ready to be brought to market.
LOT 2.—MILTON STATION.—This extensive run is situated in the PORT CURTIS DISTRICT (the head station being only a short day's ride from the TOWN OF GLADSTONE), and embraces the whole watershed of the RIVER BOYNE, from its source to within 25 miles of its mouth, having a frontage of about 30 miles to that river, besides being abundantly supplied throughout by the creeks named "Two-mile," "Six-mile," "Ten-mile," "Fifteen-mile," "Twenty-mile," and "Twenty-five-mile," besides several other streams. The character of the run is first-class, both for breeding and fattening, and its present number of stock is considered trifling compared with its ENORMOUS GRAZING CAPABILITIES. From the configuration of the country, it might be subdivided at a very small expense, into a series of breeding, weaning, and fattening paddocks, each on a large scale.
Milton is bounded on three sides by inaccessible ranges, and on the north by the Barmandoo and Iveragh Runs.

, It may be mentioned that this property has been worked with the view of increasing numbers with the least additional outlay of capital, and during the last two years the numbers have increased nearly 5000 head, while during the same period sales of fat stock have covered all expenses, including commission and interest on the money invested, and also left no inconsiderable profit.
The IMPROVEMENTS consist of a comfortable DWELLING-HOUSE, and all necessary outbuildings; extensive stock yards, substantially erected on the most approved plans; large paddocks, garden, &c.
With Milton will be sold
14,000 HEAD OF CATTLE, more or less,
a very superior herd, chiefly bred from a good selection of the well known D in diamond brand, from the Richmond River.
There are sufficient horses and mares of good quality on the station to supply all present and future requirements.

Properties of the value of those described above do not require any particular comment further than the direct notice of sale; but as these extensive and valuable runs are brought into the market under peculiar circumstances—viz., "to close a partnership which has expired by effluxion of time, and which cannot be renewed or continued owing to the death of one of the partners, and hence must be realised on the day appointed"—RICHARDSON and WRENCH would beg to direct special attention to them, and to the advantages which must accrue to their purchaser.
Both properties are within a few days' post, and have easy access to a shipping port.
One has a boiling-down establishment on the next station, and the other within a short drive.
Both have had a very large increase during the year, a great proportion of which will go to the purchaser free of cost.
And both are very lightly stocked.
Neither must it be forgotten that the scarcity of cattle in the Southern Colonies, and the long prices at which contracts for forward delivery of every kind of horned stock are now being made, cannot fail to prove a great source of profit to these stations, and that for two or three years at least there is a constant market ready for every beast fit for the butcher and for store stock; and, further, that, as the property must now be absolutely disposed of, for the reasons already given, the vendors are willing to be very liberal in the terms of sale.
Intending purchasers are invited to inspect these properties, every facility for which will be afforded on the stations.
Further particulars may be obtained on application at the Rooms, Pitt-street.

That very compact homestead sheep station, well known as ROSEWOOD,
situate within only 40 MILES of the ROCKHAMPTON FAT MARKET, and possessing, besides an excellent residence, all the other conveniences necessary for the comfort of a respectable family.
This run is intersected by the waters of Emu Creek, Moah Creek, several minor watercourses, and has also a frontage of about 8 miles to the River Fitzroy.
The country is estimated to carry about 12,000 sheep in all ordinary seasons, and consists of fine, well-grassed, open country, with undulating ridges, lightly timbered with round-leaf ironbark and stunted bloodwood. There is an abundant supply of saltbush on this run—so necessary for the healthy sustenance of sheep—and the stock on the stations is conclusive evidence as to the advantage of possessing good sound country so near a port.
With the Run will be sold the following Sheep, namely:—
3250 Ewes
2650 Wethers
150 Rams
6050 more or less.

Of the ewes, only the odd 250 or thereabouts are full-mouthed, all the rest being of good ages. The quality of these sheep is much beyond the general average of breeding stock usually sold with station properties, they having been well-selected from choice New England flocks.
The wool is of very excellent quality and texture; the price obtained for last year's clip being 2s. per lb.
The original improvements on this run were in great part renewed within the past twelve months, and are now very complete, consisting of a substantial dwelling-house, quite new, of five rooms, having a verandah of 51 feet in front, and extending round both sides, kitchen; large store; woolshed, 38 feet by 40 feet; blacksmith's shop, cart-shed, fowl-house, two servant's huts; six out-station huts, with necessary yards and hurdles for lambing; one paddock of about 200 acres, one ditto of about 100 acres; stockyard, calf pen, and milking bail,

This is a very unusual opportunity offering to any gentleman possessing an outside station to have a homestead where his family could reside within an easy reach of town, and where he could carry on those departments of sheep farming specially requiring his personal supervision, and as a depot where his fat stock would always be ready for any sudden rise in price in town. It is also admirably adapted for a person beginning squatting pursuits, wishing to obtain a run where all the outlay necessary to carry on the station has already been got over, and where he would have none of the difficulties of a long land carriage to provide for, which proves so distracting to new comers.
The vicinity of this run gives an occupant many occasional opportunities of securing the purchase of store stock of all descriptions at tempting prices, which he would not think of buying to send to a station at a distance.
Intending purchasers are specially invited to inspect this station and see the stock for themselves. They should not fail to observe the great advantage they will obtain by getting the Season's Clip and the Season's Lambs given in, within so short a period of shearing.

All further particulars can be had at the Rooms of the auctioneers.

THURSDAY, 28th SEPTEMBER.

FINE QUEENSLAND CATTLE STATION AND STOCK FOR SALE.

POWERS, RUTHERFORD and CO. are instructed by the mortgagees to sell by auction, at Peachment's, late Morton's, Hotel, Bourke-street West, Melbourne, on THURSDAY, the 28th September next, at 2 o'clock,
THE DOTSWOOD STATION.
Consisting of eight blocks of most superior country, with an area of over 440 square miles of lightly timbered, sound, open ridges, hills, plains, and large open flats, situated on the Burdekin and Oanabar rivers, to which it has frontages of over 80 miles.
With the station will be sold about 3000 head of quiet well-bred cattle, of mixed ages and sexes, none of which are old or inferior, and there are at present about 600 of them fat.
The run is within 35 miles of a port and 16 miles of a township; it is capable of carrying at least 15,000 head of cattle in all seasons, and the country all round is settled on.
Although at present the only stock on the runs, with the exception of about 25 horses and two teams of bullocks, are cattle, there is a great portion of the property most admirably adapted for sheep. The improvements, which are most substantial and complete, comprising everything needed to work the station, consist of homestead, huts, yards, paddocks, &c., &c. Altogether this is a most desirable investment, and one the Auctioneers can strongly recommend to the attention of capitalists, possessing, as it does, everything requisite to make it one of the best stations in the north or west of Queensland.

For maps, terms, and full particulars apply at the offices of the Auctioneers, 122, Queen-street, Melbourne.
